Bitter Army Wrangle Ended

Rocky Marciano Retains Heavyweight Title

Gets Decision In Brutal 15 Round Battle

Yankee Stadium Crowd Sees Bloody Champion Batter Game Charles

By JACK HAND

NEW YORK, June 17 (AP)—Rocky Marciano, streaming blood from a cut around the left eye, raised goose-egg lumps on Ezzard Charles' swollen face tonight but couldn't knock down the courageous former champ while saving his world heavyweight title on a unanimous decision in 15 brutal rounds.

If ever there was any question about the ability of Charles to take bitter punishment and fight back gamely, it vanished in the chill night air at Yankee Stadium. Time after time it seemed the 32-year-old Cincinnati Negro must sink to the canvas under the heavy bombs of the champ.

Threw Plenty Of Leather

Marciano threw enough leather at the ex-champ to keep the shoe factories in his home town of Brockton, Mass. busy for five years. Still at the end, Charles was on his feet, erect and willing to take more.

In the savage 15th, Marciano came out for a knockout but he couldn't dump battered Ezzy although he threw everything in the book from his left hook to his "Suzy Q" right. Charles grabbed and held, staggered and stumbled but remained upright.

It was the toughest fight in Marciano's string of '46 straight victories, with the possible exception of the first battle with Jersey Joe Walcott in Philadelphia in 1952.

No doubt about the final verdict remained among the throbbing crowd as announcer John Addie revealed the score cards of the three officials. Judge Artie Aidala had it 9-5-1, Judge Harold Barnes 8-6-1 and Referee Ruby Goldstein 8-5-2, all for Marciano. The Associated Press card was 10-4-1 for the champ.

Charles Draws Blood

Charles fought the "fight of his life" in the early rounds, driving home brilliant counter punches when Marciano floundered and missed. He drew blood from Rocky's nose in the very first round and opened the gash over his left eye in the fourth.

Every time Ezzy got a chance to score to that damaged eye, he took advantage of it. The cut leaked on and off through the rest of the bout, bothering Rocky who kept dabbing at the blood with his glove.

It was all Charles in the first four rounds until Marciano began to come on in the fifth with a series of left hooks to the head. He finished the attack with a punch after the bell, drawing a chorus of boos from the stands.

Again in the sixth, Marciano poured it on and the lumps began to appear on Charles' face.

In the eighth Charles was sliced around the right eye and an egg-sized lump began to emerge on the left side of his face. Although he tried to fire back resolutely and did score effectively when the Rock missed, he was unable to avoid the champ's heavy bombs the rest of the way.

Charles Is Staggered

Charles staggered on wobbly legs in the sixth from a terrific right and doubled up from a solid hook to the body, still he flurried back with four punches to Marciano's surprise.

The tenth round was another big round for the champ, although he almost fell on his face when he missed a wild right. Charles almost fell from a "Suzy Q" right. In the 11th he was staggered again from another right and a searing hook to the body.

By the time they got to the 13th, both men seemed tired and they tugged at close range until the Rock cut loose with another savage flurry.

A Charles right re-opened the gash on Rocky's eye at the start of the 14th but he was holding and on the defensive again at the bell. The 15th was an all-out KO bid by Marciano but no cigar.

Uranium Is Found On Madagascar Isle

PARIS, June 17 (AP)—The French News Agency reported today that important quantities of uranium-thorium ore have been discovered on the island of Madagascar off the East African coast.

Uranium previously has been found in several spots on the island and is being mined.

"Toy Gun" Turns Out To Be Real, Wife, Man Shot

COLUMBUS, Ohio, June 17 (AP)—"What are you trying to do, scare me with that toy gun again?"

Mrs. Margretta Richardson asked that question early today of her husband, Robert, after a quarrel, Detective Wayne Morgan reported.

A few minutes later Mrs. Richardson, 42, was running from the house with a bullet wound in her neck. Richardson, 45, was dead.

Morgan said in earlier quarrels, Richardson had aimed the gun at his wife and clicked the trigger on an empty chamber. This time it was loaded.

Senate Approves Military Budget Of $29 Millions

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)—The Senate approved a military budget of more than 29 million dollars today for the defense of the country in the fiscal year starting July 1.

Passage came on a voice vote after a Democratic attempt to add 350 million dollars and prevent a planned cutback of two divisions in the Army was defeated 50-38.

The bill carries about one-half billion dollars more than the version passed by the House April 29. But it is still below President Eisenhower's recommendations and more than five billion dollars less than Congress voted for defense last year.

Democratic senators attacked the pared-down budget as inadequate and "a desperate gamble" during the two days of debate.

Sen. Ferguson (R-Mich), speaking for the GOP leadership, contended it provides "the greatest protection possible" in a balanced economy and is suited to the administration's "long haul" defense program. He also said it would be supplemented by about 14½ billion dollars in unobligated money carried over from appropriations in previous years.

The measure, biggest of all the annual money bills, now goes back to the House for consideration of numerous changes made by the Senate.

It provides about 11 billion dollars for the Air Force, just under 10 billion for the Navy and around 7½ billion for an Army of 17 divisions. The balance would go to the Defense Department and for miscellaneous activities.

Before passage, Ferguson obtained acceptance of an amendment assuring that all mail to American troops overseas will continue to go by air.

A Senate report accompanying the big bill emphasized that reserve forces such as the National Guard, the Air National Guard and the Naval Reserve will be greatly expanded in the next 12 months.

The secretary of defense was directed in the report to study the separate guided missile programs of all the services and recommend early next year some plan for coordinating them.

The secretary also was asked to appoint a single civilian official to take "energetic and timely steps" on security and loyalty clearances of military and civilain personnel in the Defense Department.

Rocky Pours It On

Bloody titleholder won unanimous decision over Charles in 15 brutal rounds. (Round by round account on page 27).

Bidault Persuades The West To Continue Geneva Talks On Stalemated Indochina

GENEVA, June 17 (AP)—French Foreign Minister Georges Bidault today persuaded the West to continue the stalemated Indochina peace talks a little longer.

His own political life hanging by a parliamentary thread, Bidault acted for a caretaker French government.

He first conferred with Communist leaders here. Then he convinced British Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden and U. S. Undersecretary of State Walter Bedell Smith there is still hope for a cease-fire and a negotiated settlement in Indochina.

Bidault's swift round of diplomatic talks coincided with a request by Pierre Mendes-France for the French National Assembly's confidence as new premier on a platform of giving him until July 20 to reach an agreement for Indochina.

French observers here expressed belief Bidault will be replaced if Mendes-France is voted in.

"He came here to keep the conference from falling apart, and he succeeded," was the way one French official described Bidault's series of meetings here last night and early today.

In rapid succession, Bidault saw Eden and Smith last night at dinner, then conferred with leaders of Red China, Soviet Russia, and the three Associated States of Indochina this morning.

The dapper French diplomat saw Eden and Smith again just before lunch to report on his progress.

All this was sandwiched in between two airplane flights, from Paris to Geneva yesterday afternoon, and back to Paris from Geneva this afternoon to enable Bidault to attend the National Assembly debate on Mendes-France's bid for the premiership.

Gambler Found Shot To Death

BOSTON, June 17 (AP)—Gambler George D. O'Brien, acquitted only two months ago of participating in the $681,700 looting of an armored truck, suffered a fatal gunshot wound in the head today.

O'Brien, who had only 69 cents in his pocket, was found slumped in his car parked at a municipal golf course at Franklin Park.

He died several hours after he was found.

A five-shot pistol was underneath his body, four shots still unfired.

O'Brien's police record extends back 34 years.

Police indicated O'Brien probably was a suicide but they would not rule out the possibility of homicide.

Neither would they rule against the possibility O'Brien had been concerned in a mysterious shooting affray, in which some 30 shots were fired, in another section of the city early Wednesday morning.

O'Brien, depicted in his recent Federal Court trial as one who bet huge sums on horses, was facing indictment on charges of receiving stolen Federal Reserve funds.

His wife and eldest son, George Jr., 20, were indicted on similar charges by the same federal grand jury which indicted O'Brien on charges he participated in the looting of an untended armored truck in Danvers Square March 25, 1952.

Ike Orders AEC Push For Private Contracts

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP) — President Eisenhower, over the objections of a majority on the Atomic Energy Commission, today ordered the AEC to push negotiations for a power contract with a private utilities group in the Memphis area.

The President's action moved Sen. Gore (D-Tenn) to charge the administration was engineering a "deal to find a way of preventing" the Tennessee Valley Authority from building new public power plants.

Probe Cost Is High

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)—By a very rough estimate, the McCarthy-Army hearings used up nearly 10 million dollars worth of broadcast time on radio and television.

Defense Huddle Opens At Marine Base In Quantico

QUANTICO, Va., June 17 (AP)—Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson's "team"—more than 160 civilian officials, generals and admirals—came to Quantico today for their second annual huddle on defense problems.

They gathered for the four-day session at this carefully guarded Marine base against a background of events which included:

1. Hints that defense budget cuts have left lingering unhappiness in at least one important segment of Wilson's team, the Army.

2. Bleak news from abroad, telling of tightening pressure by the Reds on the Indochina front, of efforts to save the Geneva discussions on Indochina from complete collapse, of such concern over British-American cooperation that President Eisenhower and Prime Minister Churchill are soon to meet to try to harmonize their policies.

All of this serves to put a premium on the military readiness of the United States, should it be confronted by actual war. Among the officials invited to the sessions were Secretary of State John Foster Dulles and Allan Dulles, director of the Central Intelligence Agency.

Between them, they presumably had the latest picture of diplomatic objectives and intelligence reports, useful to the military officials and chiefs in their round-table talks. Wilson emphasized, however, in announcing the Quantico sessions, that no decisions were intended, only discussions.

Since the Defense Department team met a year ago new and even mightier weapons have become a reality, including an actual, combat-type hydrogen bomb. Here again, the invited guest list included an expert in that field, Lewis L. Strauss, Atomic Energy Commission chairman.

President Eisenhower plans to motor down from the White House Saturday to sit in at the final sessions and probably make a talk.

Authorities Look For High Explosive

CHESTERTOWN, Md., June 17 (AP)—Authorities had no luck today finding what looks like a harmless ice cream or oyster container with some white powder in it.

The package is really lead azide, a highly dangerous explosive.

It disappeared yesterday from the Kent Manufacturing Co., which makes fireworks and has government contracts for detonator caps and other military items.

Vermont Sweetest State

MONTPELIER, Vt., June 17 (AP)—Vermont is the sweetest state in the nation on a maple sugar basis.

The Green Mountain State produced 620,405 gallons of syrup during the past season.

Ex-Kentucky Teacher Shows Airmen New Shooting Angle

YUMA, Ariz., June 17 (AP)—A one-time Kentucky school teacher who rode a mule to work has become a top jet wheel in the U. S. Air Force's first air-to-air rocketry competition, so rapid have been developments in his generation.

Maj. Germont Garrison of Somerset, Ky., operations officer for this new type of death-dealing practice, went off to World War II and afterwards to Korea to become the world's only double double ace.

He knocked down 11 planes in World War II in conventional fighter aircraft and 10 in Korea in jets. Five planes qualify a man as ace.

With teams assembling for a Monday start at Yuma County Airport from Eastern, Central and Western Air Defense Forces and the Air Training Command, Major Gassison is a long way from the old arithmetic problems he used to put on the East Pulaski County school blackboard in Kentucky.

The big problem in speed then was "if a man standing on the caboose of a train going 60 miles an hour having a gun which would shoot 60 miles an hour took a shot at the engineer, would the bullet leave the gun and if it did, how fast would it approach the target?"

The youngsters always wanted to know if the aim of the man on the caboose was as good as Pa's, for instance.

Having been satisfied that it was, they then worked the problem — according to the major — to find the bullet would go the equivalent of 120 miles an hour and the engineer was as good as dead.

The type of shooting Garrison is used to and this new method which is being undertaken in Yuma — called lead collision course firing—would appall Pa and all the little charges Garrison used to teach in country school.

The old method of coming in on the enemy tail—with so many modern aircraft armed for all around protection—can expose the attacker too long or it may also provide a faster, lighter or more maneuverable plane a chance to escape. The lead collission method brings the attacker in at right angles, gives him a chance to launch his rockets, and get away with minimum exposure.

Mendes-France Named 20th French Premier

Peace In 20 Days Or He'll Resign

PARIS, Friday, June 18 (AP)—Pierre Mendes-France was voted into office early today as France's new premier.

The 47-year-old Radical Socialist moderate won by a wide majority of 419-154 on his eloquent pledge to end the fighting in Indochina within a month or resign.

The 419 total included almost 100 votes from the Communists and their fellow travelers.

Mendes-France had told the National Assembly he would not accept the premiership if the necessary 314-vote majority depended on the votes of the Communists. The Red deputies had pledged their votes for Mendes-France "to give the means of making peace in Indochina."

Subtracting the Communist votes he still was at least six over the minimum requirement for a majority.

Mendes-France failed by 13 votes to win the premiership last year. Joseph Laniel was finally confirmed at that time as France's 20th postwar premier, thereby ending a 37-day Cabinet crisis. Laniel lost a vote of confidence on Indochina in the Assembly last Saturday and resigned.

Mendes-France made a bid for support from some of the 205 deputies who abstained in last year's voting. He outlined a three-point program:

Three Point Program

1. Settlement of the Indochina conflict by July 20.

2. Submission of a coherent and detailed program for economic recovery by that time, depending on Parliament for the necessary powers to implement it.

3. Presentation to Parliament of suggestions to help it decide on a policy for a united Europe.

Mendes-France devoted the main part of his speech to the major problem haunting France today. The National Assembly and the nation desperately want to end the Indochina fighting.

Lehman Pushes Move To Oust Sen. M'Carthy

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)—Sen. Lehman (D-Lib-NY) today launched a new move aimed at stripping Sen. McCarthy of his committee chairmanships, but the Republican leadership promptly blocked any prospect of a floor test on the issue.

With McCarthy present but silent Lehman's resolution, like a similar one offered earlier by Sen. Flanders (R-VT), was shunted to the Rules Committee. There is little prospect either will emerge from that group.

Lehman told his colleagues McCarthy had "grossly abused" his authority and "created public disrespect" for Congress.

But then, when he proposed that his removal resolution "lie on the table"—where it could be called up for instant action at any time by any senator—Sen. Knowland of California, the Republican leader, asked if such a request did not take unanimous consent.

Vice President Nixon, presiding at the time, ruled that it would. Lehman asked for that, but Knowland objected and Nixon announced that the resolution would be referred to the Rules Committee.

McCarthy remained on the Senate floor until Nixon made his ruling. Then the Wisconsin senator left the chamber. He had gone there with members of the McCarthy-Army hearings subcommittee for a roll call vote.

On his return to the hearing, McCarthy apologized for being late.

He said there was "another of those resolutions concerning Sen. McCarthy being introduced." He added:

"I was asked to stay over there until it was disposed of. It has been disposed of."

In a prepared speech to the Senate, Lehman said McCarthy has "grossly abused the authority delegated to him as chairman of the Government Operations Committee and of (the Investigations) subcommittee thereof, inspired and created public disrespect for the lawmaking authority, created public confusion in all branches of government and impaired the high standing and prestige of the Senate of the United States."

Lightning Hits Bowl, Woman Is Unhurt

BATTLE CREEK, Mich., June 17 (AP)—Lucille Hart, 15, was standing near an open kitchen window today in the midst of an electrical storm.

A bolt of lightning streaked through the room.

Lucille, though dazed, was unhurt. But the charge blasted a bowl of cottage cheese out of her hand and sprayed the curds all over her and the walls.

Bobo Is Enroute For Nev. Decree

NEW YORK, June 17 (AP)—Barbara Sears (Bobo) Rockefeller was enroute to Reno tonight to end her six year Cinderella marriage to multi-millionaire Winthrop Rockefeller.

She slipped out of town in great secrecy last night to establish her required six weeks residence in Nevada. She reportedly is traveling by train.

It's costing the scion of one of America's great fortunes six million dollars to shed the blonde daughter of an immigrant coal miner from Lithuania.

They came to financial terms last Jan. 8 after four years of bitter wrangling. Since then, details of the settlement have been ironed out. Bobo gets 5½ million dollars plus a half-million dollar trust fund.

She also retains custody of their five-year-old son, Winthrop Paul Rockefeller Jr. although conceding visiting rights to the father.

Iceboxes To Burn

CLEVELAND, June 17 (AP)—Close to 100 ancient iceboxes will go up in flames tomorrow night in ceremonies at suburban Fairview Park. The boxes, regarded as death traps for children, were collected from throughout Cleveland during a month-long drive.

Rebel Recruits Openly Defy Guatemala's Leftist Regime

TEGUCIGALPA, Honduras, June 17 (AP)—Recruits for an apparent resistance move against Guatemala's leftist government walked Tegucigalpa's streets openly in uniform today despite a plea from the Guatemalan envoy to curb them.

Foreign correspondents in the Honduran capital were impressed by the numbers of khaki-clad men in the city and gathered at the airport. Wearing no insignia, the men boarded planes without any apparent effort to hide their movements. Reports from San Pedro Sula, a banana center 110 miles northwest of Tegucigalpa and only 25 miles from the Guatemalan border, said the resistance forces also were moving about openly there.

Guatemalan Ambassador Amadeo Chincilla urged Honduras last night to halt the movement of men and arms to points near the common border. But usually reliable sources said Guatemalan exiles loyal to Carlos Castillo Armas, who heads the resistance movement here, still were being airlifted toward their native country.

Chinchilla made his plea to Honduran Foreign Minister J. Edgardo Valenzuela. Later he told newsmen:

"We have reports that well-equipped soldiers carrying guns are being flown and driven by car to points near our border. They are being flown in chartered planes."

The ambassador said Valenzuela had assured him Honduras "will prevent any incidents at the border and has given orders for the seizure of any arms there."

Chinchilla said Col Carlos Diaz, chief of the Guatemalan armed forces, had told him by telephone that two planes dropped "modern arms" by parachute Monday near Tiquisate, Guatemala, near the Pacific coast. He said the arms were picked up by farmers and turned over to the police.

Sen. Potter Wants Ouster Of Top Aides

Declares Both Sides Guilty; Inquiry Closes On Dramatic Outburst

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)—The McCarthy-Army hearings passed into history tonight with a key Republican senator hurling a vote of guilty at both sides and calling for the ouster of "those employes who have played top roles" for the Army and the McCarthy side alike.

Sen. Charles E. Potter of Michigan dropped this final bombshell as the curtain rang down and the television cameras switched off at 6:32 p.m. (EDT) to end the most publicized inquiry and climax one of the bitterest political dramas the United States has ever known.

Potter, a legless veteran of World War II, handed out a statement blasting both Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) and Secretary of the Army Stevens while the public hearings were ending in a bittersweet welter of harmony appeals and ominous foreshadowing of new conflicts to come.

"There is little doubt," Potter said, "that the testimony of witnesses on both sides was saturated with statements which were not truthful . . .

"I believe a criminal case against some of the principals might be developed if the case were taken to a grand jury room where the testimony would have to be repeated without others being present."

Unprecedented Hearing

The record of this unprecedented hearing—well over two million words of testimony and exhibits—already is going to the Justice Department for possible perjury proceedings.

The Senate Investigations subcommittee itself must pass on the immediate issues—whether McCarthy and his aides brought improper pressure on behalf of Pvt. G. David Schine, and whether the Army side tried to "blackmail" McCarthy out of probing its ranks for alleged subversives.

Potter cast his totally unexpected vote at once.

"I am convinced," he said, "that the principal accusation of each side in this controversy was borne out by testimony."

Of the McCarthy side he said, without naming names: "Since the subcommittee staff was investigating a very serious condition which was alleged to have existed in the Army, there never should have been at any time any conversation about a commission or the military status of one of its members (Schine) by anyone but the person concerned."

And the Michigan senator went on to say: "Top executives of the Army should never have encouraged this sort of thing and should have put an end to the discussions for their own protection and in order to avoid what occurred later."

Proposes Dismissal

He added: "I shall propose dismissal of those employes who have played top roles on both sides." That would certainly mean Roy M. Cohn, chief counsel to the McCarthy Investigations subcommittee, and John G. Adams, counselor to the Army. The GOP majority on the committee has voted to clear another McCarthy aide, Francis P. Carr, of the improper pressure charges.

Also cleared at the same time, of charges brought by the McCarthy side, was H. Struve Hensel, assistant secretary of defense.

At Sen. Potter's office later, an administrative aide said Potter would have specific suggestions to

Young American Wins Chess Game

NEW YORK, June 17 (AP)—Twenty-four-year old Donald Byrne, who hadn't played a game of chess since last August, today won America's first victory in the tournament with the Russian chess masters.

Byrne, playing the white pieces and using the English opening, defeated Yuri Auerbach, champion of Russia, in 59 moves. Byrne, U.S. Open chess champion, thus gained his first international victory.

Byrne and his brother, Robert, 26, completed games this afternoon that had been started last night. Robert lost his contest to Alexander Kotov.

The Russians still are far ahead in points, leading 6 to 2.

Jury Declares Lebron Woman Is Innocent Of Intent To Kill

Verdict Is Returned After 19 Hours; Three Men Are Convicted

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP)—A federal jury late today found Lolita Lebron innocent of intent to kill in the shooting March 1 in which five members of Congress were wounded.

Yesterday the jury found the 34 year old Mrs. Lebron guilty on five counts on assault with a dangerous weapon and convicted all three of her male colleagues of assault with intent to kill as well as assault with a dangerous weapon.

The acquittal verdict came after 19 hours deliberation, 7½ hours of it today.

Mrs. Lebron, told newsmen while the jury deliberated her fate that she wanted to be found as "guilty as they found the boys."

She faces a maximum possible sentence of 50 years in prison for the lesser offense for which she was convicted.

The three men, like Mrs. Lebron members of the Puerto Rican Nationalist party, face possible maximum sentences each of 75 years in prison—the penalty for the intent-to-kill charge.

Mrs. Lebron and the men—Rafael Cancel Miranda, 25, Andres Figueroa Cordero, 29, and Irving Flores Rodriguez, 28—all swore they were just staging a demonstration when they pumped bullets into the House chamber from the visitors gallery. Five congressmen were wounded in the firing.

Mrs. Lebron said she fired into the ceiling. She and the others insisted they just wanted to call attention to the Puerto Rican Nationalist party and its campaign for independence.

There were reports that Judge Alexander Holtzoff had suggested in bench conferences that U.S. Attorney Leo Rover drop the intent-to-kill charge against Mrs. Lebron.

However, Rover has insisted he believed she was guilty and should be charged. He argued in the trial that the defendants knew bullets would kill and, if they were only making a demonstration, they could have used blanks.

There are five counts against each defendant on each charge. Each could get a total of 50 years in prison on the simpler charge and 75 on the more serious one. However, Judge Holtzoff has said sentences would run concurrently and thus 75 years would be the longest sentence anyone could get.

Rescuers Save Man From 45-Foot Well

METROPOLIS, Ill., June 17 (AP)—Five and a half hours of feverish toil by rescuers were rewarded tonight when a 46-year-old laborer was lifted unhurt from the bottom of a 45-foot well where he was buried by fallen gravel.

James Floyd was hoisted to the surface on the cable of an automobile wrecker after long dizzy hours during which rescue workers, camped by the narrow well, removed gravel from around him pail by pail.

Call Ministers For Conference

LONDON, June 17 (AP)—Britain plans to call prime ministers of the eight overseas Commonwealth nations to a London parley this year on the critical Asian situation, diplomatic officials said today.

Prime Minister Churchill was reported wanting Commonwealth backing for a policy that would aim to:

1. Keep the door open for a settlement with the Communists in Indochina.

2. Define clearly the sphere of the free world's influence and interest in Southeast Asia and the Pacific.

3. Unite with like-minded nations, including the United States and France, in a regional defense organization binding its members to resist Communist aggression in that sphere.

The Commonwealth nations are Britain, India, Pakistan, Ceylon, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, South Africa and Southern Rhodesia.

Far East Bomb Group Is Placed In SAC At Guam

(Editor's Note: Story on General Joseph Caldara of Mt. Savage who will command new bomber base on Guam appears on back page.)

TOKYO, Friday, June 18 (AP)—The Air Force today placed all its heavy bombers in the Far East under the Strategic Air Command—the nation's atomic bomb carrier—and will pull them out of Japan to Guam.

The change will mean eclipse for the lumbering B29 Superforts of World War II and Korean combat days and the eventual arrival of swift, giant jet bombers to provide the striking force in the Far East.

The removal of the heavy bomber headquarters from Japan to Guam will accomplish a double objective.

First, the long-range bombers can perch on Guam, protected behind a vast radar screen against any surprise attack.

Second, the removal of the atomic bomb carriers from Japan relieves the Japanese of the worry of being the target of retaliatory bombings should a major war come to Asia.

An announcement by Gen. Earl E. Partridge, Far East Air Forces commander, said the Far East Air Forces Bomber Command, under which the heavy bombers operated, was being deactivated today.

It is replaced by the Strategic Air Command's 3rd Air Division, which will be based at Andersen Air Force Base on Guam.

The new air division commander will be Brig. Gen. Joseph D. Caldara, Mount Savage, Md., the current Far East Air Forces Bomber Command chief.

The 3rd Air Division will be similar in organization to the 5th and 7th divisions now operating under the Strategic Air Command in North Africa and England, Partridge said.

Sen. Potter

make about job "separations" at the next closed-door meeting of the subcommittee. This has been set for tomorrow morning.

Until then, it was stated, Potter would say nothing about the individuals he had in mind.

Potter's dramatic announcement—which TV watchers missed since he didn't deliver it personally while senators and other participants were delivering their curtain speeches — completely overshadowed a rush of other 11th hour developments:

1. Stevens sent word that the only advice he ever got from clark Clifford, onetime adviser to PreiDENT Truman, was that he should delay an appearance before the McCarthy subcommittee until Sen. Symington (D-Mo) returned from Europe. McCarthy has been picturing Clifford as a probable mastermind behind the Army "improper pressure" charges which brought the present row to a boil. Stevens' statement was that the one bit of advice he got from Clifford he decided to disregard.

Investigate Prison Camps

2. Joseph N. Welch, the Army's chief special counsel, tried to the last to show that a series of 11 McCarthy side memos were cooked up at the last minute. McCarthy contended to the end of a line-by-line cross examination, however, that the memos were just what they purported to be—a chronological record of alleged attempts by Army officials to block an investigation at Ft. Monmouth, N. J., and to use Schine as a "hostage."

3. McCarthy testified the next project for his subcommittee will be an investigation of American citizens still in communist prison camps. But he said he has urgent plans for other investigations—including an all-out attempt to force testimony from loyalty board members of the Truman era. It was on this issue, in the Ft. Monmouth investigation, that he clashed head-on with the Army and to a considerable extent with the whole Eisenhower administration.

Episcopal Church To Hold Meet In Hawaii In 1955

NEW YORK, June 17 (AP)—The Protestant Episcopal Church, which recently cancelled plans to meet in Houston, Tex., because of racial segregation there, today announced the meeting will be in multi-racial Hawaii.

The decision to hold the church's 1955 convention in Honolulu was made by the Rt. Rev. Henry Knox Sherrill, presiding bishop.

"The significant fact," he said in a statement, "is that this will mark the first time that the general convention has met in a missionary district, and in this case, an overseas missionary district.

"It is my conviction that this convention will give tremendous impetus to our missionary work at home and abroad."

Bishop Sherrill on June 8 rescinded the church's original plan to hold the convention in Houston, after mounting protests that delegates of different races would not get equal treatment there.

Soviet Press Continues Drive Against Spies

MOSCOW, June 17 (AP)—The Soviet press, stepping up what it calls a vigilance drive, has been publishing almost daily reports of the arrest of "American-trained spies" from the Ukraine in the west to far Eastern Siberia. American diplomatic officials here are watching closely the developing campaign.

In each case, the populace has been summoned to increase its vigilance against enemies seeking to infiltrate into the Soviet Union. Special stress is placed on claims that the Americans are training White Russian and Ukrainian exiles and Japanese for subversive purposes.

In reports of confessions by those said to have been caught, the alleged spies are quoted as making the strongest anti-American charges.

In the last several days, the press has reported: One Ukrainian exile arrested and executed; two Russian army deserters sentenced to 25 years in prison; two DP's reportedly set free after recanting and confessing they came into the country on orders of the Americans; one Japanese sentenced to 25 years and his companion shot by Russian border buards in the Soviet Far East.

24 Guatemala Refugees Hide Out In Embassy

(Editor Note: The following dispatch by AP correspondent Jack Rutledge in Guatemala took five hours to pass through the heavy censorship which has been clamped down by the left-wing government, claiming its security is threatened.)

By JACK RUTLEDGE

GUATEMALA, June 17 (AP)—A record 24 refugees were hiding out in the Salvadorian Embassy today. Eighteen of them have been granted safe-conduct by the government of President Jacobo Arbenz Guzman to leave the country tomorrow.

Guatemala city was quiet and airline service from the outside world resumed normal operations after being temporarily halted.

Authorities pushed plans for massive demonstrations Friday to show the solidarity of the people behind the Arbenz regime. Leaders estimate the capital's narrow streets will be crowded with about 100,000 supporters from all over the country.

Foreign Minister Guillermo Toriello, who returned to his office today after a day of illness, still has not answered questions regarding the pleas by correspondents to clarify the news situation, now under tight censorship, and to speed up transmission.

The government, meanwhile, continues to deny all reports from abroad regarding the president and the situation in Guatemala.

Supplemental Aid To Tornado Victims "Frosting On Cake" Says Red Cross

LOS ANGELES, June 17 (AP)—E. Roland Harriman, national Red Cross chairman, today described supplemental aid given tornado victims last year in Flint, Mich.; Waco, Tex., and Worcester, Mass. —after the Red Cross had done its work—as "frosting on the cake."

He said he had heard of claims being made in Flint from a locally raised fund for "such things as outboard motors."

Robert C. Edson, Red Cross assistant national director of disaster services and director of its Flint operation, said television sets, fur coats and diamond rings were among items listed by citizens among their losses in reports to the Red Feather Fund there. He said payments were made in cash, pro-rated according to loss, and did not fully cover losses.

He said a similar principle was followed in the two other cities.

Harriman called it "a new philosophy of disaster relief" and told reporters:

"It's a question of keeping the Red Cross from spending money unnecessarily. If they want it that way, let them have it. But I raise the question of whether the rest of the country will be as generous in the future.

"Whether the American people want to take care of the frosting or the cake as well as basic needs, I don't know."

Harriman called the news conference in response to protests from the three cities. He mentioned Flint in a speech to the Red Cross national convention here Monday, and another official identified Waco and Worcester as the other cities involved in his remarks.

Harriman told reporters:

"In the past year it seems a new philosophy of disaster relief has come into being. As I mentioned to the delegates, there was an example last June in Flint, where we spent about $600,000 in emergency and rehabilitation work.

"Locally in Flint they raised approximately $900,000, none of which was used in the Red Cross phase of assistance. It was used over and above what the Red Cross had done for Flint.

"Committees in Flint—and Waco and Worcester, which adopted a similar type of action—had said in news releases they don't owe the Red Cross a cent.

"Of course they don't. Nobody owes the Red Cross a cent. The Red Cross has never asked repayment from any individual.

"They went further and said their citizens had donated to the Red Cross a substantial amount of money for Red Cross purposes —which include other things besides disaster relief—and have indicated in effect the Red Cross is an insurance agency. The Red Cross is not an insurance agency."

Harriman said "any community has a right to raise and spend money as it wants to" but that it should "participate in the total job."

Asked "what procedure Flint should have followed," the Red Cross chief replied:

"How much of the $900,000 it should have turned over to the Red Cross I'm not going to say. But if the rest of the country spent

Leading Church Minds Try To Find Answer To Destructive Bomb Through Divine Power

By GEORGE W. CORNELL

NEW YORK, June 17 (AP)—It's often said that religion contains an answer to the bomb.

If so, just what is the answer? That part usually is left unsaid.

Some leading minds in the religious field have examined the question and tried to tell specifically just how the solution—if any—lies in divine power.

Recognizing the possibility that cobalt bombs could wipe out life on the earth, they've drawn from biblical teachings conclusions and keys to facing the problem. Some of them, in effect:

Love can subdue hate. If there is sufficient love, there is no hate to cause bombings.

Belief in eternity overcomes any fear. If there is no fear, there is no panic and rash deeds.

Forgiveness and understanding can turn enemies to friends. If men are friends, they do not fight.

True charity and service to others drive out want and envy. And without these, there is no war.

To achieve such principles will require, as missionary Frank C. Laubach puts it, that we "rise to a new spiritual and ethical level ourselves" and "try to bring the Communists up with us."

"The issue will be joined and determined — or defaulted — in the houses of worship of the United States."

Comments by him and other religious leaders on the hydrogen-cobalt bomb were set forth in the current issue of the Pulpit Digest, a publication mainly for the ministry.

Here are excerpts —

Georgia Harkness, professor of applied theology, Pacific School of Religion:

"Only the doing of what Jesus called 'the things that make for peace' can avert the present mad frenzy . . . and the possible destruction of all living things.

"In principle, the procedures are clear — love of enemies and potential enemies, service to all men . . ., the substitution of a spirit of reconciliation and good will for threats and implements of mutual destruction."

Halford E. Luccock, professor emeritus of homiletics, Yale University Divinity School:

"The cure for war is not a new weapon, but a new mind. It will come when we hear Jesus saying to our world: 'No more of this!'

The sound of these words in the ears of Christ's own church must drown out the sound of everything else."

Paul Tillich, professor of philosophical theology, Union Theological Seminary:

"The first point which comes to my mind is the possibility that it is the destiny of historical man to be annihilated not by a cosmic event but by the tensions in his own being and in his own history."

Missionary Laubach: "We are wicked, hideously wicked, not to ship all the surpluses of wheat, cheese, butter out to where people are hungry. . . . Both China and Russia will see that unselfish service is more effective than their propaganda. It is the most powerful weapon on earth and it has the blessing of God behind it."

Harold A. Bosley, minister of the First Methodist Church, Evanston, Ill.:

"What is needed is a new attitude . . . an ultimate commitment of religious faith. . . .

". . . We must make it known that this grim game of seeking security by matching weapon with weapon . . . is a negation of everything we believe true about God and man. We should make it clear that we will condemn it now and forever more, under any and all conditions. . . .

"It is unthinkable that the churches of any one country could come to so high a resolution without setting off as by a chain reaction similar movements throughout the churches all over the world."

Harold John Ockenga, minister of Park Street Church, Boston, and president of Fuller Theological Seminary:

"Faith in God dictates that we as a nation take our stand upon moral law and let the chips fall where they may."

Commie Threat More Intense

LOS ANGELES, June 17 (AP)—During the last five months the threat of the Communist conspiracy to American freedom has become more intense, Adm. Arthur Radford, chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff said tonight.

Addressing the national convention of the American Red Cross, Radford said:

"At the beginning of this year, President Eisenhower warned in his State of the Union message that: 'American freedom is threatened so long as the world Communist conspiracy exists in its present scope, power and hostility.

"Today, the threat seems even more intense. There is no need to deal in vagaries and ambiguities about it. In essence, we are confronted with the diabological enmity of international Communism, supported by the power position of the men in the Kremlin."

Radford called for a greater amount of effective teamwork and resolute collective action to combat the threat.

He said that while the fight now is in Indochina "who is to say that it will not be in Thailand next and then perhaps in some other country?"

Truman, Petrillo Duet Gets Daily Variety Show Review

HOLLYWOOD, June 17 (AP)—That celebrated duet at the American Federation of Musicians convention in Milwaukee yesterday—featuring ex-President Truman on the piano and AFM President James C. Petrillo on the trumpet—drew this review today from Daily Variety, the show business trade paper:

"Harry and Jimmy"

(instrumental and patter)

"Individually, the partners in this act have been around for a long time and each has received a solid reputation as a single. Paired the accent is on harmony and they compliment and complement each other. Tried out on a one-shot basis, the act drew considerable applause from the highly partisan audience consisting of delegates to the AFM convention.

"Harry is sharper on the patter than his colleague and he intersperses his excellent keyboard work with some political asides that never go flat. Jimmy has a tendency to blow the same tune all the time, but he's above average as a trumpet player. Act features a couple of duets followed by a piano solo by Harry on the Paderewski Minuet. Paired, they jam well, Harry displaying a fine left hand technique that will probably occasion another McCarthy investigation.

"Act doesn't have too much of a future. The price is high, the Republicans are in—and what agent knows how to book an ex-president?"

Mahoney's Manager In Frederick Quits

Sappington Decides To Join Forces With Opponent, H. C. Byrd

[By The Associated Press]

George P. Mahoney's Frederick County campaign manager resigned yesterday and announced he was switching his support to Dr. H. C. Byrd in the race for Democratic nomination for governor.

The announcement was made in Frederick by R. Francis Sappington of Lime Kiln, a retired builder who had been active in Mahoney's bid for Democratic nomination four years ago. He urged fellow campaign workers to join him.

Sappington said he was motivated by Mahoney's "apparent insincerity" and added that the candidate had "no intention of fulfilling campaign promises made with the sole purpose of securing votes."

There was no immediate comment from Mahoney, who was touring Harford County. But Mahoney headquarters in Baltimore quickly issued a statement saying Mahoney "Will take his chances with the people of Frederick County without the help of Mr. Sappington." The statement also indicated the defection had been expected.

Sappington said his action was taken "only after careful reflection." It was prompted, he said, during a visit by the Baltimore County business man to Frederick County on Tuesday.

Sappington said the Mahoney party was at Brunswick, stopping at the home of a friend of Sappington where others also had gathered to meet the candidate.

The resigning campaign manager said Mahoney "personally insulted" him in front of his friends and that he was "then and there convinced that Mahoney was insincere in his campaign pledges and commitments."

Sappington, a member of an old Frederick County family, formerly was in the building business in the Silver Spring area. He later opened a freezer plant at Mount Airy and recently sold that and retired from business. He was a candidate for the House of Delegates four years ago.

Both Byrd and Mahoney were out yesterday trying to whip up enthusiasm for their causes.

Byrd, on a tour of the Eastern Shore, visited Caroline County where some observers believe he is headed for rough sledding. Mahoney won Caroline's three unit votes in both the 1950 campaign when he was seeking nomination for governor and in 1952 when he was running for the U. S. Senate.

Mahoney was trying to cement support in Harford County, which he carried in the past two Democratic primaries but where opposition seemed to be developing recently.

"Drape" Is Made Into "Square" By Court Order

BALTIMORE, June 17 (AP)—A 16-year-old "drape" came into Magistrate Reuben Caplan's court today, and was turned into a regular "square" by order of the judge.

"Digging" the "crazy" haircut on young John Powell of Baltimore, Magistrate Caplan remarked, "You look like a wild man."

The youngster's haircut was "real cool"—just like the rest of the "cats" in his West Twenty Third Street neighborhood. It was long at the temples, ending up in little ducktails at the back of his head. On top it was pretty long.

Officer Joseph Engle had arrested Powell this morning early to ask him why he was perched on the fire escape of a building in the neighborhood.

Engle has a short, neat brush cut.

Judge Caplan ordered the youth to get out of the courtroom and come back at 4 p.m. with "a brush cut like Patrolman Engle's."

The youngster came back this afternoon after visiting Barber Paul Amato.

Judge Caplan surveyed the results, expressed satisfaction, then dismissed the former drape.

Police To Probe Betting Calls

ANNAPOLIS, June 17 (AP)—Chief Daniel F. Bratton of the Anne Arundel County police said today he intends to check with Philadelphia authorities about long distance telephone calls into his area for placing bets.

Bratton had been quoted earlier as saying he did not plan to follow up the Philadelphia lead.

The chief said today he still feels a Philadelphia Inquirer story about the betting calls spoiled whatever case he might have had.

The Inquirer reported earlier this week Philadelphia police had discovered someone was making calls from Connie Mack Stadium there for the purpose of placing bets as high as $2,500 on baseball games.

Many of the calls, the story said, went to a Sunset exchange in the Baltimore area.

There are 1,200 telephones on the Sunset exchange, covering an area along the ANNE Arundel County waterfront just below the Baltimore city line.

Bratton said today anyone using the number for taking bets certainly is gone now.

Group Backs Drunkometers Use In State

BALTIMORE, June 17 (AP) — A group backing the use of so-called drunkometers in Maryland has uncorked a new drive for legislative approval.

The aim is to get the lawmakers to approve the use of a scientific device that measures the amount of alcohol a person has consumed.

Several efforts to get drunkometer bills through the Legislature have failed.

The opening gun in the new campaign was fired today by Baltimore Traffic Magistrate Harry Katz. He is vice-chairman of a group known as the "Committee on Tests for Alcoholic Intoxication."

The group is headed by Dr. Russell S. Fisher, chief medical examiner for Maryland, and Maj. Ruxton M. Ridgely of the State Police.

Katz charged today that Maryland "compels its magistrates to do that which no competent physician will do; that is, diagnose the extent of influence of alcohol without a chemical test."

Katz contended that under the present system many guilty drivers get away and that sometimes innocent drivers become victims of false arrest.

McCarthy Plan Violation Of Law

BALTIMORE, June 17 (AP)—Atty. Gen. Brownell tonight labeled as an "open invitation to violate the laws" the call by Sen. McCarthy (R-Wis) for federal employes to give him information, secret or not, he could use in fighting communism.

Brownell also spoke out against another McCarthy concept — that the senator should be allowed to call in government loyalty board officers for questioning on their decisions.

"No employe security program would work," the attorney general said, "if the hearing officers had to answer congressional committees on television rather than answering to their superiors in the executive department."

Brownell did not mention McCarthy by name in his remarks prepared for a convention of the National Editorial Assn. But he pinpointed the senator by quoting him. He said:

"Recently, a senator stated that he had received classified military information from 'an Army Intelligence officer.' He further stated: 'As far as I am concerned, I would like to notify two million federal employes that I feel it was their duty to give us any information which they have . . .'"

Many parts of the American desert get less than 10 inches of rainfall a year.

Professor Says McCarthy Is Neanderthal Politician

FREDERICK, June 17 (AP) — An English professor from Sen. McCarthy's home state of Wisconsin told a group of Episcopalians today the senator has "risen to power by making an idolatrous religion out of what he considers to be patriotism."

The Rev. Dr. Chad Walsh of Beloit College said this is "the age of jitters" and that it was "inevitable that the political Neanderthal should arise. If Sen. McCarthy had not already been the kind of a person he is the forces of history would have created an equivalent demagogue with a different name."

Dr. Walsh told some 400 delegates at a conference of the Washington Province of the Episcoapal Church:

"If Sen. McCarthy were a Russian agent planted in this country to spread disunity and suspicion and prepare the way for a Communist coup d'etat he could not be doing a more effective job."

He went on to explain "I do not think he is a Russian agent" but instead "a man who has risen to power by making an idolatrous religion out of what he considers to be patriotism."

The Wisconsin professor struck out at what he termed "200 per cent Americanism—or call it McCarthyism . . ."

He said it "acts as though the end justifies the means; as though anything goes . . . so long as you can strike a blow at someone or something that is possibly red or reddish. . . It does not tally well with anything said by the founding fathers."

This "200 per cent Americanism," he said "doesn't care how many innocent by-standers it destroys if an occasional red can be bagged. . ."

It creates, he said, "an atmosphere of mob justice. . ."

Investigation is a proper function of the legislative branch of the government, Dr. Walsh said, "but not investigations as the Neanderthal referred to conducts them."

Attorney Convicted Of Trust Larceny

ROCKVILLE, Md., June 17 (AP)—James H. Bowen, 52, Bethesda, Md., title attorney, was convicted by a Montgomery County Circuit Court jury last night of larceny after trust and embezzlement of $10,607 from a client in a real estate transaction.

Sentencing was postponed until June 30 by Judges Charles W. Woodward and Patrick Schnauffer.

Bowen was convicted of converting to his own use money entrusted to him by William J. and Catherine V. Collins to pay off a trust on a home they purchased in Silver Spring.

Inmate Is Killed

WASHINGTON, June 17 (AP) — John Cherry, 40-year-old District jail inmate, was killed instantly today when he plunged eight feet from a lavatory partition, landing on his head.

Most automobile plants specialize in a particular part and do not turn out completed automobiles.

U. S. Protests Soviet Cartoon

MOSCOW, June 17 (AP)—The U.S. Embassy sent a protest note today to the Soviet government describing as "scurrilous and particularly shocking" a Krokodil magazine cartoon version of Defense Secretary James V. Forrestal's 1949 death plunge.

The cartoon showed Forrestal landing on his chin. Forrestal died May 22, 1949, in a plunge from a window of his room at the U.S. Naval Hospital in Bethesda, Md.

"The Soviet government has good reason to recall the great services of Mr. Forrestal to the common cause during the war," the note declared, adding that the cartoon showed "total disregard of even the most elementary tenets of civilized decency."

Krokodil suggested that the cartoon serve as a model for a monument to Forrestal and called the late American official "the active organizer and first victim of the United States war psychosis."

The U. S. note held the Soviet regime officially responsible for the cartoon as well as all anti-American attacks in the Russian press.

Red Nations Are Happy Over Geneva Breakup

TOKYO, Thursday, June 17 (AP)—Leaders of three anti-Communist Asian nations have commended the Allied breakup of the Geneva conference on Korea yesterday.

Support for an anti-Red alliance grew in the Far East.

President Synghman Rhee of South Korea, attending the unofficial Asian anti-Communist conference at Chinhae said "the free nations no longer are begging the Communists to come to some agreement so as to avoid at any cost the possibility of World War III."

"Let us stand firm and prove not by word but action that we will not put any further confidence in what the Communists say."

At Taipeh, Formosa, Foreign Minister George Yeh of Nationalist China issued a statement saying further talks with the Communists were useless and the time had arrived to take united action against them.

President Chiang Kai-shek in a speech declared "the free world now at last is seeing the true face of the Chinese Reds because of their intervention in Korea and Indochina."

Vice President Pha R. Nides of Thailand's National Assembly, who is attending the Chinhae conference, said in an interview the breakup at Geneva gave "the Korean people more courage and determination to fight communism." He said Thailand would keep troops in Korea "until everything is settled."

Support for an armed alliance against the Communists in Asia came from two other nations in Asia.

In Manila, Sen. Jose P. Laurel, frequent critic of U. S. policy in Asia, came out in an interview for Secretary of State Dulles' plan for a collective defense in Southeast Asia.

In Wellington, New Zealand, Prime Minister Sydney Holland in a speech said New Zealand could not "stand idly by" while communism spreads towards British Malaya.

Wife Of "Dr. I. Q." Granted Divorce

ALTON, Ill., June 17 (AP)—The wife of James W. McClain Jr., appearing as "Dr. IQ" in a New York television show, was granted a divorce here yesterday.

Mrs. Doris J. McClain, who charged cruelty, was awarded custody of their four children. McClain was directed by the court to pay Mrs. McClain $400 a month alimony plus $50 for each child.

McClain was rector of the St. Paul Episcopal church here for 10 months before resigning in January to return to the entertainment field. He acted as "Dr. IQ" on a radio show before studying for the ministry. They were married in 1933.

Nuclear Scientist Commits Suicide, Found In Auto

UPTON, N. Y., June 17 (AP)—Leslie G. Ritner, 31, associate physicist in the nuclear engineering department of Brookhaven National Laboratories, was found dead today, an apparent suicide.

Brookhaven officials said Ritner's wife, the former Sally Bedell, of Wilmington, Mass., called laboratory police today, told them her husband did not come home last night and asked them to search for him.

Police said they found his car, which contained a note saying he was depressed and was going to commit suicide. The body was found near a carport at the medical department. Police said an empty bottle believed to have contained poison was nearby. The Suffolk County coroner withheld a verdict pending an autopsy.

Veteran Changes Mind, Will Take $19,000 Pension

BOSTON, June 17 (AP)—An elderly World War I veteran who rebelled in 1943 against the federal withholding tax and refused to collect salary and pension checks of nearly $19,000 had a change of heart yesterday.

After state officials disclosed that the money was due William Bowes, 70, of Boston's South End, he told reporters he now intends to collect it. He said he did not know he was entitled to so much.

Bowes was wearing a worn Chesterfield coat and khaki shirt and pants when reporters found him in his sparsely furnished South End room.

He said that although he once "dabbled in the stock market" he has been living on "dwindling savings." He said he received a $75 veterans pension from the federal government for a short time.

The white-bearded Bowes said he plans to reclaim his mother's home in Framingham, which was sold for taxes a few years ago, and "then get in the running in the stock market again."

He explained he refused to accept the checks because he was opposed "in principle" to the withholding tax. "I am not going to let that principle stand in my way now," he added.

State Auditor Thomas J. Buckley disclosed that the money was due Bowes after his office made a general audit of state funds.

Officials in the state treasurer's office said they had advised Bowes repeatedly that he was entitled to the money.

Buckley said Bowes had not accepted pay and retirement checks totaling $13,635.97, dating back to Oct. 1, 1943. Bowes retired from the state service as a disabled veteran March 31, 1946.

Under state law a portion of the money has reverted to the state's general fund. It would require a special act of the Legislature to make that portion available to the owner.

In addition, Bowes refused to withdraw $4,888.98 in contributions and interest now in the state retirement fund.

When he retired he was entitled to draw 50 per cent of his pay as a disabled veteran.

Negro Physicians Admitted By Group

NASHVILLE, Tenn. June 17 (AP)—Two Negro physicians were admitted today to the Tennessee State Medical Assn., first members of their race to gain membership in the organization of white doctors.

Dr. D. M. Spotwood and Dr. William A. Lewis became eligible by reason of their recent admission to the Giles County Medical Society.

The Giles County Medical Society said Drs. Spotwood and Lewis were admitted because of their high qualifications.

Dr. John R. Thompson Jr. of Jackson, president of the State Medical Assn., said there is nothing in that organization's constitution to bar Negroes from membership but he said all members must enter through their county organization.

On The Line

by Bob Considine

NEW YORK, June 16—(INS)—Old golfers never die, nor do they fade away. Instead, they keep playing in the National Open. Eventually, they get around to winning it. That is, everybody except Sam Snead.

Sam's the perennial bridesmaid of this greatest of our golf events, whose 1954 renewal unveils today at Baltusrol in New Jersey. He's been second more often than Tom Dewey, one recalls of this Bridesmaid Revisited. More times than Sam likes to recall, one bad hole has cost him the title, the only big title that has resisted his massive attacks on the citadels of par throughout the golfing world since he burst into prominence in 1937.

Sixteen Opens ago he was tragically close. He came up to the final hole of the 72-hole event at Philadelphia far enough in front of the pack to be able to win with a bogie six and tie with a horrendous seven. But either tally was unthinkable. Sam had birdied that not too difficult par-5 final hole in all three previous rounds.

What happened is still spoken about in awed whispers by the thousands who witnessed it. I would count it among the ten most memorable events of my own sportswriting life.

Sam's drive hooked into the trampled rough, perhaps 230 yards out. He liked his lie better than most of those who followed him. He chose a wood and took one of his classic swings at the ball. But instantly the mob realized that he had not got the meat of the ball. There was no life in the pill. It started off with the proper trajectory, but it was an imposter. When it should have shown another burst of life it quietly died, and came to rest in a sand trap perhaps 150 yards from home.

An eerie quiet settled over the following crowd, and over the great human scimitar reaching around three sides of the final green. A man was demolishing himself in full view. A waiting headline was being killed and rewritten. A man known for his deep respect for a buck was wantonly burning 50,000 of them.

Now Sam had to gamble as never before, or since. He calculated the steep rise of the face of the trap and weighed it against the slant of the face of the club he knew he needed to get home with. If he hit the ball exactly right . . .

The ball streaked out of the sand, hit the ubangi lip of the trap with a sickening thud, popped a few feet up in the air and fell back in the deep grass that ornamented the top of the bunker.

It was then that Snead blew his stack. He grabbed bitterly into his bag and pulled out the first iron his hand touched. He lashed at the hidden ball, and the people gasped and sighed as the ball went crazily into the fleeing crowd to the left of the green. Snead had now taken four shots.

With an outstanding approach and a little luck with a putt Snead could still have made it. But his approach was a stricken push that left him with a 20-foot putt. He missed that putt. He missed the next putt, too. He was down in eight. And out.

The people didn't even gasp now. They made a tumbrel-wide opening that led to the clubhouse.

Bake Orange-Nut Cake For Birthday Treat

"Birthday" Dinner Menu
Rolled Beef Rib Roast

Orange-Nut Cake with Uncooked Penuche Frosting
Beverage

A birthday coming up that you want to celebrate? Then here's a light and tender homemade orange-nut cake you'll find a special treat. It's a bit different from our usual birthday cake with the batter containing ground orange, raisins and nuts. An easy uncooked penuche frosting is suggested. This is a recipe you will turn to time and again—for bridge dessert, as well as other entertaining needs.

For the main course of this honor dinner serve a rolled rib roast of beef, suggests Reba Staggs, well known home economist. Remember that a rolled roast takes a longer cooking period than the standing rib. Allow 32 minutes per pound for rare done beef; 38 for medium, 48 for well done. The same as the standing rib, let the rolled rib "set" for 20-30 minutes after roasting. This makes carving easier.

Orange-Nut Cake
1 cup raisins
1 large orange
1¾ cups sifted enriched flour
1 teaspoon baking soda
¼ teaspoon salt
½ cup lard
1 cup sugar
2 eggs
¾ cup sour milk
½ cup chopped walnuts

Line two 8-inch cake pans with waxed paper. Grind raisins and seeded orange with fine blade of food grinder. Sift flour, baking soda and salt together. Cream lard with sugar until light and fluffy. Add eggs, one at a time, beating well after each addition. Add flour mixture alternately with sour milk, mixing thoroughly after each addition. Add raisins, orange and chopped nuts. Pour batter into pans and bake in a moderate oven (375° F.) for 30 minutes. Cool and frost with Uncooked Penuche Frosting.

Uncooked Penuche Frosting
¼ cup butter or margarine
6 tablespoons brown sugar
2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar
3 tablespoons cream or top milk
1 teaspoon vanilla

Cream butter or margarine with brown sugar until light and fluffy. Add confectioners' sugar and continue creaming. Add cream and vanilla and beat until frosting is light and fluffy.

Ham Loaf With Horseradish Sauce

1 pound lean fresh ham, ground
¾ pound lean pork, ground
¼ teaspoon pepper
¼ teaspoon paprika
2 cups milk
1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
1 tablespoon minced onion
1 tablespoon chopped parsley
½ cup quick-cooking tapioca

Combine ingredients in the order given. Pour into a loaf pan and bake 1½ hours in a moderate oven, 350°F., or until done. Serve hot or cold with Horseradish sauce. Serves 8.

HORSERADISH SAUCE

1 cup whipping cream
2 tablespoons mayonnaise
2 tablespoons drained horseradish

Whip cream until stiff. Just before serving fold in horseradish and mayonnaise.

Cheese Pineapple Souffle

1 tablespoon gelatin
½ cup milk
1½ cups cottage cheese, sieved
½ cup sugar
½ teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup crushed, drained pineapple
2 egg whites
½ cup whipping cream.

Soak gelatin in ¼ cup cold milk; add ¼ cup hot milk, stir to dissolve. Cool. Combine cottage cheese, sugar, salt, lemon rind and juice, and pineapple; blend. Stir in gelatin. Beat whites until stiff; fold into cheese mixture. Add stiffly beaten whipped cream. Turn into a quart mold that has been rinsed in cold water. Chill until set. Serve with cream or top with whipped cream and cherry garnish.

Serves 6.

Meat Ideas For The Cook For Two

Any homemaker who prepares meals for two may find menu planning a bit more difficult than one who cooks for more. Here are some main dish suggestions for the "cook for two."

Ground beef is perhaps the most versatile of meats. For individual servings use your muffin pans. First pour catchup or a piquant sauce in the pan allowing about 2 tablespoons for each pan. Then place the beef mixture over the sauce. When baked (and they take only half the time required for a loaf), they have a ready-made sauce.

These Deluxe Burgers are a change from plain hamburgers. Combine ½ pound of ground beef with ½ teaspoon salt, and a bit of pepper. Shape into 4 thin patties. Then combine 2 tablespoons bleu cheese with 1½ teaspoons Worcestershire sauce, 1 tablespoon of mayonnaise and ¼ teaspoon dry mustard. Place the mixture between two patties and press the edges together. Broil the stuffed patties 2 inches from the heat, about 8 to 10 minutes, turn and brown on the second side.

Pork chops are another standby. For one serving brown the chops, then top with a green pepper ring. In each ring place 2 tablespoons of rice. Then add a can of tomatoes, cover and simmer for 1 hour. Stuffed pork chops braised over scalloped potatoes are other good choices.

For one more pork serving, choose a smoked shoulder butt. Let it simmer in water to cover until nearly cooked. Then remove to a rack in an open roasting pan. Top with a glaze and place in a moderate oven for 30 minutes to set the glaze.

Savory Vegetables In Toast Cups

3 tablespoons butter
3 tablespoons flour
1½ cups milk
¾ cups grated cheese
¼ teaspoon Worcestershire sauce
½ teaspoon salt
3 cup cooked or canned vegetables
3 hard-cooked eggs
1 teaspoon prepared mustard

Melt butter in top of double boiler; add flour and blend. Gradually add milk and cook, stirring constantly until thickened. Place over boiling water and add cheese and seasonings. When cheese is melted, add vegetables and sliced hard-cooked eggs. Serve in toast cups. Serves 6.

TOAST CUPS

6 thin slices bread
3 tablespoons melted butter

Remove crusts from bread slices. Brush both sides of each slice with melted butter. Press into six 3-inch muffin pans. Toast in a moderately hot oven, 375°F., for 12 minutes until lightly browned.

Freezing Sandwiches

Sandwich making often is a chore that gets the homemaker up early in the morning or keeps her up at night in families where lunches are carried regularly to work.

But there's a way to speed and ease that job for those with home freezers, says nutritionist Janet Coblentz, University of Maryland Extension Service.

Save time by making up a large batch of sandwiches—enough for a week or two, wrap each one separately and put in the freezer. Frozen sandwiches can go directly from the freezer to the lunch box and by noon will be thawed and ready to eat.

Miss Coblentz offers suggestions about freezing sandwiches both for lunches and for picnics.

Fillings suitable for sandwiches to be frozen include: luncheon meats, leftover sliced roast beef, roast pork, baked ham, chicken, turkey, dried beef, tuna, salmon, sliced cheese, cheese spreads, yolks of hard-cooked eggs, and peanut butter. Use these fillings separately or combine with cream cheese, creamed butter, mayonnaise or salad dressing. Add sliced or chopped olives and dill or sweet pickles if desired.

For safety freeze only freshly prepared sandwiches and fillings. Avoid raw vegetables such as lettuce, celery, tomatoes and watercress which lose crispness, color and flavor when frozen. Whites of hard-cooked eggs become tough, and fruit jellies or preserves soak into bread.

Spread bread with softened butter — not with salad dressing or mayonnaise which soaks into bread. Once frozen sandwiches are thawed, use them promptly because they spoil rapidly after they have warmed up to temperatures above 45 degrees F.

Wrap each sandwich with a double thickness of heavy waxed paper or with moisture-vapor-resistant wrapping, folded tight. Freeze and store at zero F. or below. In heavy waxed paper sandwiches keep fresh in the freeze a week. In moisture-vapor-resistant wrapping they may be stored two or three weeks. Thawing at room temperature takes about three hours.

Broiled Ham Dinner Treat

The broiled ham with tart cherry sauce is ideal because it's a combination the family can prepare with ease.

Menu

Jellied Consomme
Broiled Ham Slice
with Cherry Sauce
Parsleyed New Potatoes
Buttered Broccoli
Stuffed Celery Salad

Beverage

Broiling is one of the easiest of all meat cookery methods. Here is a tip or two that will help the family if they broil the ham for mother. First of all, when buying the ham for broiling have it cut ¾ to 1 inch thick. At this thickness the ham will be cooked through by the time the surface is a light golden color.

In broiling, place the ham slice on the broiler rack and adjust the broiler pan so that the top surface is 2 to 3 inches from the heat. Let the meat cook for 12 to 15 minutes (1 inch thick), then turn. When turning the ham, the same as a steak or chops, use tongs or insert the fork into the fat.

Continue broiling at this same temperature for 12 to 15 minutes. Then place the ham on your platter for immediate serving. A tart-sweet cherry flavor is always a hit with ham. Below is an easy sauce to prepare. Along with the ham serve small new potatoes—topped with chopped parsley in melted butter. Also include in your menu buttered broccoli and stuffed celery hearts arranged on salad plates. Corn muffins, corn meal squares or rolls may be served. Dessert will be no problem for the family when it's chocolate sundaes.

Cherry Sauce

1 tablespoon cornstarch
¼ cup of sugar
1 cup cherry juice
1 cup pitted red cherries

Combine cornstarch, sugar and cherry juice. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until thick and clear. Add cherries and serve hot around broiled ham slice.

Brown Butter Sauce For Broccoli

Brown ⅓ cup butter until quite dark. To it add 2 tablespoons lemon juice or vinegar. Pass in a small heated pitcher for a glorified touch. Adds fine flavor to broccoli.

Pot Roast Of Beef For All-American Meal

What more all-American meal could you hope to set before your family than pot roast of beef served with browned carrots, buttered noodles and a tossed vegetable salad? Apple pie with cheese makes the perfect ending.

Beef Pot Roasts

The most frequently prepared pot roasts are those from the beef shoulder. These are called chuck roasts. Another popular pot roast is the rump roast.

Let's talk about chuck roasts, the most plentiful of beef pot roasts. Chuck roasts sometimes are found on the market in the form of boned, rolled roasts. These are popular because they're easy to carve.

Rolled Beef Chuck Roast

In a Dutch oven or other large heavy utensil melt a little lard and in it brown roast on all sides to a rich deep brown. Sprinkle roast with salt and pepper as you turn it during cooking. Slip a trivet (small rack) under the meat and then add a few chopped onions, a piece of bay leaf and a sprinkle of dried or powdered herbs (unless you're lucky enough to have fresh herbs). Add about one-half cup of water, bouillon or tomato juice. Turn the heat to a simmering temperature and cover the utensil. Cook for 3 to 4 hours. A compact rolled roast requires somewhat more cooking time than a regular chuck roast with the bone left in. After about the first hour, the liquid will start cooking away and then it must be replenished in small amounts fairup frequently. The last hour lay whole carrots around the roast to cook in the savory liquid. Sprinkle them with salt.

And Then The Gravy!

The pot roast gravy is half the joy of eating this favorite meat.

1. Skim off all but about 4 tablespoons of the fat. (A roast baster is handy for this purpose.)
2. To the fat and liquid left in the pan, stir in about 4 tablespoons flour which has been mixed with just enough water to make a smooth paste.
3. Stir constantly over low heat until thickened, then add water to dilute to just the right strength. Taste and add seasonings.

Here's a beef dish which fits the spring menu theme. Piquantly seasoned braised beef is combined with fresh (or frozen) asparagus and served on cooked rice.

Chinese Beef With Asparagus

1 pound beef stew meat
¼ cup fat
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon pepper
2 tablespoons finely chopped onion
1 clove garlic
¾ cup bouillon
1 bunch fresh asparagus or 1 pgk. frozen
1 tablespoon cornstarch
2 teaspoons soy sauce

Cut meat into strips about ½ inch thick. Brown in the hot fat in a 10-inch skillet. Drain off excess fat. Sprinkle with salt and pepper. Add onion, minced garlic and bouillon (made by dissolving 1 bouillon cube in ¾ cup hot water). Cover and cook over low heat until meat is nearly tender, about 45 minutes, adding a little water if necessary. Cut asparagus into ½ inch pieces and add with ¾ cup water. (If frozen asparagus is used, first thaw, then cut into pieces.) Cover and continue cooking over low heat until meat and asparagus are tender, about 15 minutes. Mix cornstarch with ⅛ cup water and add to meat; cook, stirring constantly, until mixtureis thickened. Add soy sauce and, if mixture is too thick, thin with a small amount of water. Heat and serve on cooked rice. Serve with additional soy sauce. 4 servings.

New Flavor Sherbet Mix

This summer, lime sherbet mix joins the lemon, orange, and raspbery flavors already available. You'll be seeing this new flavor soon in your food store. Like the other flavors of sherbet mix, lime sherbet can be made with milk, water or fruit juice, depending on the richness you desire. Delicately tinted and refreshingly flavored, lime sherbet is a fine garnish for fresh fruits, or fruit salad. Or, it can be served as a filling for cake or in a cookie crumb crust. Lime sherbet combines with fruit juices for refreshing summer drinks and with ice cream and fruit in parfaits.

But of course, you'll want to serve it by itself first, to see how truly delicious the tangy lime flavor is. Here's the recipe:

Lime Sherbet
(Basic Recipe)

- cup milk
- 1 cup water
- 1 package lime sherbet mix

Measure milk and water into bowl. Add contents of package lime sherbet mix. Beat with rotary beater until dissolved—about 2 minutes. Pour into freezing tray and freeze until firm. Remove from tray to bowl. Break up into small lumps with fork. Beat with rotary beater until free from lumps but still a thick mush. Freeze to desired firmness.

For richer sherbet use: 2 cups milk or use ¼ cup light cream in place of ¼ cup of milk. Evaporated milk or reconstituted milk powder may be used, if desired.

To make lime ice use: 2 cups water. Add 2 tablespoons sugar.

For variation, fruit juices may be used in place of part of the water in the basic recipe. Try one of these suggestions:

- ½ cup fresh orange juice
- ⅛ cup reconstituted frozen lemonade
- ⅛ cup apple juice
- ¼ cup reconstituted frozen limeade

Fruits or fruit puree can be stirred into the sherbet when it is rebeaten for other pleasing flavor variations. Try:

- ¼ cup apple sauce
- ½ cup drained crushed pineapple or other fruits of your choice

You'll like plain lime sherbet with cookies or cupcakes for dessert. Remember, sherbet is versatile . . . it can be served:

...as a garnish with fresh fruit salad or fruit cup.
...as filling for a chocolate, gingersnap or graham cracker crust topped with a quickly browned meringue.

...in parfaits with crushed pineapple, or raspberry or strawberry sauce.
...in chilled fruit juice, carbonated beverages or fruit punch.
...on a wedge of angel cake or white cake with a sauce of fresh berries.

The Daddy of 'em All!

This Sunday, June 20th, we celebrate Father's Day.

Here at A&P, we see quite a lot of father these days . . . he's doing more and more of the family shopping. This is quite a change from the days when we opened the forerunner of today's chain stores in 1859. (We're proud of the fact that your A&P is "the daddy of 'em all"!) In those days, mamma did the shopping, papa paid the bills, and the pantry shelf was a mystery to man.

One thing hasn't changed. Father still gets more good food for his money at A&P! And A&P's YEAR-ROUND policy of STORE-WIDE low prices assures father of maximum change from his dollar!

So as Father's Day nears, we invite ALL you men to come see . . . come save . . . at A&P.

New Navy Recruiter Assumes Duties Here

Chief Quartermaster Edward J. Carey is assuming duties as petty officer in charge of the local Navy recruiting sub-station in the Post Office Building.

He relieves Chief Machinist Mate Earl C. Hudgins, who is soon to be transferred to another duty station. Hudgins expects his transfer within the next few weeks.

The local recruiting office also announced that the waiting list for Navy enlistments is now very short, and that vacancies will soon be available.

Rail Shipments

Pennsylvania car to California.

Car Cleaning Cited

A. N. Gantzer of Pittsburgh, district manager of the Association of American Railroads, submitted a report in which he cited efforts to get freight cars cleaned. He said that in May, railroads in the region cleaned 35,076 cars. Of that total 9,192 were cleaned by the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad. He asserted that many meetings have been held to promote the prompt handling of freight to eliminate available slack.

F. W. Bennett, general traffic manager of the Sharon Steel Corporation, Sharon, Pa., chairman of the executive committee of the Regional Advisory Board, presided at the meeting.

Greetings to the city were extended at the luncheon by C. S. Catherman Jr., a director of the Cumberland Chamber of Commerce. He told the group that the history of Cumberland is directly connected with the transportation industry and observed that the economic health of the community has corresponded with the economic health of the transportation industry.

Mayor Roy W. Eves welcomed the group.

Reports on four committee meetings held yesterday morning also were submitted. The reports were made by Leon Veitch, district traffic manager of the Aluminum Company of America, freigh. loss and damage prevention committee; Dwight L. Koerber, traffic and transportation division manager of the Pittsburgh Chamber of Commerce, less-than-carload-lots committee; A. C. Deimel, general traffic manager, Mullins Manufacturing Corporation, car efficiency committee, and Eugene L. Hofmann, Pittsburgh, general superintendent of transportation for the Pennsylvania Railroad, railroad contact committee.

Rains May Delay Start Of Adult Swimming Classes

Adult swimming classes will begin Monday at 7 p. m. at Constitution Park pool if enough persons register, according to Robert E. Pence, city recreation director.

He said the recent rains which have crippled attendance at the pool have dampened the enthusiasm for swimming classes one of the most popular recreation activities last year.

So far, 10 persons have registered for the classes, and Pence said the opening of the classes will be postponed unless the registration nears the 20 mark by Monday.

James Hines, a qualified Red Cross swimming instructor, will be in charge of the classes. Those interested may register by calling the Recreation Department or the Constitution Park pool.

Atomic Road Shows Aim For Peace

Charles E. Wilson, formerly of General Motors, now secretary of defense, is a salesman first and foremost. Small wonder he should tell a college graduating class that false ideas—such as those broadcast by Russia—cannot be nullified by bullets. The answer is to destroy them with the truth, "with superior ideas and sound philosophy."

Nothing could be closer to Mr. Wilson's philosophy than the series of proposed atomic road shows which the United States Information Service is preparing in order to demonstrate to foreign countries what this country is doing to develop peacetime uses of atomic energy.

Private industry and the Atomic Energy Commission have reacted most favorably to the idea and are now working on plans for models, charts, graphs and other art features which will combine to give a quick, clear, visual impression.

Two of the shows will be permanent exhibits, and plans have been made to install them at Sao Paulo, Brazil, and in Berlin this summer The first of the traveling shows will open in Rome later this month, and there and throughout Europe the theme of hope for the future in an atom age will be stressed heavily.

How much better an approach this is than the proposal to hold a test explosion of a 1954 model hydrogen bomb for representatives of all nations, Russia and her satellites included. The latter is the negative approach.

Thousands of top notch salesmen—and certainly Secretary Wilson must be included in the group—will agree that the positive, rather than the negative, attracts the greatest number of customers in the long run.

These Days

By George E. Sokolsky

Deminform

Senator Jackson, who on television looks like the eternal collegian, young, fresh, buoyant, had a wonderful time with himself making fun of David Schine's plan for psychological warfare. I have seen dozens such plans, drawn up by so-called experts.

Senator Jackson is not so dumb as not to understand that the word, "Deminform," however crude it may be etymologically, has the virtue of conveying a specific idea, namely, that as the Communists have established an information and propaganda section called the Cominform, so the so-called democracies should establish a similar fighting organization called Deminform.

Jackson could not have failed to understand that but the senators have all become accustomed to using their short stay on television to ham up their act to catch a laugh. My reaction to the Jackson foray is that the word, "Deminform," is objectionable because there is not a democracy on the face of the earth, and because the United States is not a democracy at all, but a representative republic which sometimes suffers from a careless choice of representatives. If as Schine wrote "fight fire with fire," then the materialism of Marxism can only be fought by the spirituality of religion.

Schine mentioned that in his memorandum and Jackson put on his innocent look, which always tells me that he is about to be mischievous, and asked just whether Schine means that the religious groups were to be infiltrated.

I would not use the word, infiltrated, but the word, educated. The religious groups of the world are as shocked and surprised by the stupendous success of the Marxist Church as President Eisenhower was at his press conference last Thursday. Many of the clergy have regarded communism as a wild-eyed something or other, but they have failed to recognize the emergence of the Marxist Church which now controls the lives of 800,000,000 human beings. It is a materialistic, atheistic, pragmatic church which is fighting Juadism, Christianity and Islam, as it must, because they represent the concept of a mystical God who revealed the Natural Law to man. By this revelation, man was given a moral system upon which he has based his entire life. To the Marxist, such a system is unscientific and therefore untrue.

I would recommend to Senator Jackson Marx's essays on Feuerbach which are part of the canon of the Marxist Church. Feuerbach (1804-1872) was a German materialistic philosopher who profoundly influenced Marx. Marx states his case as follows:

"The great basic question of all philosophy, especially of modern philosophy, is that concerning the relation of thinking and being. From the very early times when men, still completely ignorant of the structure of their own bodies, under the stimulus of dream apparitions came to believe that their thinking and sensation were not activities of their bodies, but of a distinct soul which inhabits the body and leaves it at death—from this time, men have been driven to reflect about the relation between this soul and the outside world. If in death it took leave of the body and lived on, there was no occasion to invent yet another distinct death for it. Thus arose the idea of its immortality which at that stage of development appeared not at all as a consolation but as a fate against which it was no use fighting, and often enough, as among the Greeks, as a positive misfortune. Not religious desire for consolation, but the quandary arising from the common universal ignorance of what to do with this soul . . . after the death of the body—led in a general way to the tedious notion of personal immortality. . ."

Karl Marx's 11 theses on Feuerbach, in my judgment, lay the basis for the dogma of the Marxist Church. From this, it will be learned that for Marx the principal attack on our civilization must be on its religions, especially Christianity, Judaism and Islam.

Therefore Schine's suggestion of working through the churches and the clergy is sound and Senator Jackson's levity was more plebian than philosophic.

It is only through religion that Marxism can be destroyed; that is, through the acceptance of a mystical God who gave to man moral law. Marx laid this down as final:

"The philosophers have interpreted the world in various ways; the point however is to change it."

And one of the changes he desired was to abolish God.

Sen. Flanders' Move Against McCarthy Stopped By Ike's Legislative Program

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON—It has now been almost two years since Governor Dewey had a long session with candidate Eisenhower about the importance of an early showdown with Senator McCarthy and urged him to stage that showdown in Milwaukee by criticizing McCarthy right to his face in his own bailiwick.

Instead, Ike listened to other advisers, eliminated the McCarthy criticism, and finally, after conferring with McCarthy himself in Peoria, even eliminated praise of Ike's old friend, Gen. George Marshall, who McCarthy had castigated.

Today, 20 months later, some of the Dewey Republicans in Congress are saying that Ike had decided on another "Peoria."

What's happened is that the White House has decided not to let the Flanders resolution on McCarthy's finances come up for a vote in the Senate. If it does come up for a vote, a majority of the Democrats and enough Republicans would vote with Flanders and against McCarthy, thus giving Eisenhower a victory over the man who has caused him more trouble than any other member of Congress, whether Republican or Democrat.

But the Flanders resolution cannot come up for a vote without the OK of Senator Konwland, Republican leader, and both Knowland and the White House have turned thumbs down.

Joe's Elbow-Jiggling

It was only a few days ago that Eisenhower found it necessary to issue an empahtic Justice Department statement putting the administration's foot down on McCarhy for advocating his own private espionage system inside the administration.

Reason for Ike's thumbs-down is the desire to pass his legislative program. In private conversations, Eisenhower has talked about his program as if it were the one and only thing upon which hangs his political future.

The men who are talking to him most about this include Knowland, Congressman Charlie Halleck of Indiana, and Gerald Morgan, Ike's Capitol Hill buttonholer. They are similar to the little group of advisors who in October 1952 urged Ike to junk Dewey's advice and appease McCarthy.

Today some of the Deweyites in Congress argue that what Ike needs is not a legislative program and the passage of new laws, but the ability to administer the laws that are passed. He can't do that, they argue, if he has the junior senator from Wisconsin constantly on his neck or jiggling his elbow.

Bunche's Loyalty

When Ralph Bunche, distinguished Negro diplomat, was near the end of his seven-month-long security check, he was invited to dine at the White House with Emperor Haile Selassie of Ethiopia.

Simultaneously, Bunche's lawyer, ex-Ambassador Ernest Gross, got a phone call from Herb Block, famed political cartoonist.

"I am planning a cartoon," he said, "of Dr. Bunche getting up from the White House dinner table, turning to Eisenhower, and saying: 'Please excuse me, Mr. President. I have to return to have my loyalty investigated'."

Ambassador Gross finally persuaded Herb Block not to draw the cartoon for fear it would backfire against Bunche.

No Free Junkets

President Eisenhower is so determined to push his legislative program through Congress that he has secretly called in Secretary of Defense Wilson and told him to cut off the most popular way congressmen have of sneaking out of town—airplane junkets.

Ordinarily, when the heat waves start simmering on the Potomac, senators and congressmen break out the travel folders and look for pleasant places to "investigate."

Knowing this, Ike conspired with his secretary of defense "to keep Congress in town" until adjournment day. Free airplane transportation, the President suggested to Wilson, should be out.

McCarthyism Fades

The recent California primary has caused both Republican and Democratic strategists to wonder whether the McCarthy technique may not have lost its political punch by the time November rolls round.

In three different California races, McCarthyism, or McCarthy techniques, or McCarthy candidates fizzled, as follows:

1. The renomination of Congressman Robert Condon, Democrat, of Walnut Creek, despite the fact that the Atomic Energy Commission had refused him permission to attend A-bomb tests, and despite the fact that Democratic Chairman Mitchell had tried to read Condon out of the nomination. Condon won easily.

2. The victory of Mrs. Margaret Younger, Republican, over State Senator Jack Tenney, sometimes called the "McCarthy of California." Mrs. Younger, a follower of the Earl Warren moderate wing of the Republican party, won easily, despite the fact that the opposition had put another candidate also named "Mrs. Younger" in the race against her.

3. Thousands of circulars put out by Senator Kuchel forces, attempting to smear Congressman Sam Yorty as a red, also fizzled. Yorty won the Democratic nomination easily.

Startling Revelations Found In Oppenheimer Record

By David Lawrence

WASHINGTON — A determined effort seems to have been made by "left wingers" hereabouts to discredit the Atomic Energy Commission and particularly its chairman, Lewis S. Strauss, whose heroic defense of the security of the United States deserves instead the highest plaudits of his countrymen. His chief sin in the eyes of the "left wingers" is that he has lined up against Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer.

The official release of the entire transcript in the proceedings which led to the judgment that Dr. Oppenheimer is a security risk and should not be employed by governmental agencies hereafter is a sensational revelation. But this document and the report of the special board headed by Gordon Gray do not tell the whole story.

For the fact is that Dr. Oppenheimer strayed outside the field of science and, for example, urged that in the event of war the Strategic Air Command of the U. S. Air Force should not be used if the other side would agree also to refrain from using theirs, which was relatively small. This was first disclosed in an article appearing in Fortune magazine in May 1953 which was written by Charles J. V. Murphy, who had just finished a tour of reserve duty as a colonel in the Air Force and as aide to the late General Hoyt S. Vandenberg.

Why should a scientist—and an influential one who could bring to bear the united influence of many of his colleagues—try insistently to give advice during top-level secret conferences on what the American military position should be? The Gray Board's report had in it this guarded language:

Report's Language Cited

"In evaluating advice from a specialist which departs from the area of his specialty, government officials charged with the military posture of our country must also be certain that underlying any advice is a genuine conviction that this country cannot in the interest of security have less than the strongest possible offensive capabilities in a time of national danger . . .

"We must make it clear that we do not question Dr. Oppenheimer's right to the opinions he held with respect to the development of this weapon (the H-bomb). They were shared by other competent and devoted individuals, both in and out of government. We are willing to assume that they were motivated by a deep moral conviction.

"We are concerned, however, that he may have departed his role as scientific adviser to exercise highly persuasive influence in matters in which his convictions were not necessarily a reflection of technical judgment, and also not necessarily related to the protection of the strongest offensive military interests of the country.

"In the course of the proceedings, there developed other facts which raised questions of such serious import as to give us concern about whether the retention of Dr. Oppenheimer's services would be clearly consistent with the security interests of the United States."

Letter To Hoover

Most significant also is a letter from William L. Borden just now made public in the official proceedings of the hearings of the Gray Board. Mr. Borden was executive director of the staff of the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy from January 1949 until June 1953. He served under the late Senator McMahon, Democrat, who was chairman of the committee. Before entering on these duties, he had been a pilot in the Army Air Force for three years and served overseas. He is a graduate of Yale Law School. On November 7, 1953, after he left the committee, he wrote to J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI, outlining his suspicions about Dr. Oppenheimer based on a careful study of all classified data to which he had access, and this included almost everything related to atomic-energy matters in the government. Mr. Borden wrote in part:

"The purpose of this letter is to state my own exhaustively considered opinion, based upon years of study, of the available classified evidence, that more probably than not J. Robert Oppenheimer is an agent of the Soviet Union.

"This opinion considers the following factors among others: He was contributing substantial monthly sums to the Communist party; his ties with communism had survived the Nazi-Soviet Pact and the Soviet attack upon Finland; his wife and younger brother were Communists; he had no close friends except Communists; he had at least one Communist mistress; he belonged only to Communist organizations, apart from professional affiliations; the people whom he recruited into the early wartime Berkeley Atomic Project were exclusively Communists; he had been instrumental in securing recruits for the Communist party; and he was in frequent contact with Soviet agents."

Changed Attitude on H-Bomb

In addition, Mr. Borden charged that Dr. Oppenheimer was a vigorous supporter of the H-bomb program until World War II ended and that he then urged each senior individual in his field to desist and was "remarkably instrumental in influencing the military authorities and the Atomic Energy Commission essentially to suspend H-bomb development from mid-1946 through January 31, 1950."

Mr. Borden asserts that Oppenheimer "more probably than not, has since (mid-1942) acted under a Soviet directive influencing United States military, atomic energy, intelligence, and diplomatic policy," and points out that "it is to be noted that these conclusions correlate with information furnished by Klaus Fuchs, indicating that the Soviets had acquired an agent in Berkeley who informed them about electro-magnetic separation research during 1942 and earlier."

What is particularly damaging, however, are several of Oppenheimer's own admissions which are revealed in the official testimony, such as his confession that he lied to a security officer of the United States Army about a contact with him attempted by a Soviet agent and that he did not reveal the true facts until some months later. Obviously the furor about the Oppenheimer case isn't just a matter of views or opinions but concerns specific acts that resulted in the decision to refuse to give him security clearance for the future.

Baering Down On The News

By Arthur "Bugs" Baer

Bar Committee of Kansas City rips up the tracks over the return of vaudeville via the public trial.

It objects to the ordeal by television and the trial by newsreels. It sounds as familiar as a creak in an old shoe.

Believe it or the marching Ripleys, that squawk was registered in stack of impartial conjecture on November 1, 1937.

Seventeen years ago the Bar Committee of Kansas City dropped a whizzer in the suggestion box. In a well-weathered memorandum it stated the judiciary had become fascinated with publicity, the jury was envious of the defendant's importance and the mouth-pieces on both sides were going wide-screen on double-takes.

To be either frank or earnest we didn't remember television that long hence. But a Kansas City reader sent in one of my own columns for that date commenting on the legal kibitzing.

The K. C. barristers sure predicted more accurately than a gypsy queen throwing three strikes with the crystal ball. Seventeen years ago it had the Army-McCarthy hipperdrome down to a T. This month it crossed it.

The Scientific Hornets

By Joseph And Stewart Alsop

WASHINGTON

In the case of Dr. J. Robert Oppenheimer, the Atomic Energy Commission and, indeed, the U. S. Government, has been led right into a major hornet's nest.

The American scientific community, whose cooperation the government so desperately needs, has now had time to react to the preliminary verdict on Oppenheimer. The shock and indignation of the reaction are really hard to convey.

The scientists will not be calmed, either, by the publication of the record in the Oppenheimer case. If the majority of the AEC finally rule against Dr. Oppenheimer, the situation can become very dangerours indeed.

The best proof of the danger is to be found in the Atomic Energy Commission's own most vital installation. The great bulk of the AEC's work on weapons development, for example, is still done at Los Alamos. And Los Alamos is in flames.

Shortly after the publication of the Gordon Gray Board's findings, a bitter but closely reasoned attack on the verdict was signed and sent to Adm. Strauss and President Eisenhower by 282 of the scientific personnel at Los Alamos. Since then, another 201 Los Alamos scientists have spontaneously joined the original signers, bringing the total up to 483.

Join Formal Protest

Approximately three-quarters of the staff members of the Los Alamos Theoretical Division and Physics Division — the two key divisions— have joined the formal protest by now. Los Alamos, which is the most important single installation, presents the most extreme picture. But great numbers of the staff at Brookhaven Laboratory have also joined in a formal protest, or have sent individual letters or telegrams to the AEC.

Nothing formal has yet been done at Oak Ridge or the Argonne Laboratory, but intense feeling is reported. Throughout all the American universities where the AEC recruits its essential consultants, the sentiment is clearly the same.

The Federation of American Scientists has spoken for the younger men. The august American Physical Society has chimed in with measured rebuke. And a large number of the giants of American psysics have individually placed their anger on the record.

Significantly, the indignation of the scientists is remarkably impersonal. They do not complain, primarily, of injustice to Dr. Oppenheimer. They have no animus, either, against Gordon Gray and Thomas Morgan, the two members of the special board who found Dr. Oppenheimer a security risk. Of Gray and Morgan, the great Dr. Leo Szilard has said:

"Unfortunately for all of us, these are as good men as they come, and if they are affected by the general insanity which is more and more creeping up on us, then who can be counted on to be immune?"

What has enraged the scientists, rather, is the standard of security revealed by the Gray Board's report. As to the charges on which Dr. Oppenheimer was held a security risk, they naturally tend to agree with the minority member of the Gray Board, Dr. Ward Evans. They do not believe, any more than Dr. Evans believed, that Dr. Oppenheimer was "less than candid," or that he obstructed the hydrogen bomb project by "lack of enthusiasm."

Cite "Real Point"

But the truth or falsehood of these charges is not the real point. The real point is that the scientists regard these charges as fundamentally irrelevant to a security proceeding.

Adm. Strauss has appeared to be quite a lot "less than candid" in his testimony before the Joint Congressional Committee on Atomic Energy. The President and many other highly placed officials showed a marked "lack of enthusiasm" for the air defense of this country, with tragic results which are already appearing. So the scientists ask: Are these men also security risks?

In contrast, the scientists point out that the whole Gray Board held that Dr. Oppenheimer was devotedly loyal, unquestionably discreet, and a public servant whose contributions can never be repaid. Is it not enough, the scientists demand, to be devotedly loyal and unquestionably discreet?

In other words, the scientists are convinced that Dr. Oppenheimer was found guiltless on every point that mattered, and was branded as a security risk on charges having nothing to do with security. This is why the scientific community will not be impressed by Adm. Strauss' efforts to bolster this latter group of charges. Instead, their suspicion will be strengthened that personal feelings disqualify the chairman of the AEC from serving as chief judge of appeals in the Oppenheimer case.

The relations between the scientists and Adm. Strauss have now assumed great importance. It is even more important that the scientists are up in arms against our security system, which is not satisfied with attested loyalty and admitted discretion. After all, every scientist working for the government must expose himself to that system. And an understandable revulsion against this kind of self-exposure is now running like wildfire through the scientific community.

"There'll be no strike, of course," one of the AEC's most valued consultants told these reporters. "But I find my enthusiasm dropping to zero just when lack of enthusiasm has become illegal: and my lack of enthusiasm is likely to be total when my contract comes up for renewal."

Young People Top List Of Accident-Prone Individuals

By Dr. Theodore R. Van Dellen

Some persons are said to be so susceptible to accidents they cannot avoid them. They try their best but through clumsiness or anxiety, are bound to get into trouble. Many are cured spontaneously, whereas others continue along this course throughout life.

Older estimates indicated that 85 per cent of all accidents were caused by 15 per cent of the population. Most of these men and women were said to belong to the accident prone group and authorities believed that by concentrating on this aggregation numerous accidents could be checked.

But new studies demonstrate a fallacy in this reasoning. Dr. M. S. Schulzinger of Cincinnati, O., after analyzing the situation, has concluded that accident prone individuals are of two main types. The larger group is made up of young people, who were found to be responsible for the majority of accidents. But this is a shifting unit; as fast as a certain age is reached, the old timers graduate and their places are taken by younger blood.

The second group is in the minority and consists of people who had an unusually high accident rate in the past. They hew more to the line of the accident prone but nowhere approach in numbers the 15 per cent of our population previously mentioned. Schulzinger arrived at this conclusion after studying a series of 35,000 accidents taking place over a period of 20 years. Of these, 27,000 were industrial and the remainder occurred in the home and elsewhere. All social and economic levels in the community were represented.

The accident peak occurred at age 21 and declined steadily thereafter. The rate for the 20-24 group was two and one-half times higher than in the 40-44 bracket, four times more than at ages 50-54, and nine times higher than at ages 60-64. Among the non-industrial accidents, almost 70 per cent were in persons under 35 and 50 per cent were below age 25. Twice as many men as women had accidents and 74 per cent of the accidents happened to 86 per cent of the people. This is in sharp contrast to the former statistics of 85 per cent of accidents caused by 15 per cent of the population.

H. W. Heinrich studied 500,000 accidents and figured that annually there are 10 million injuries severe enough to cause lost time. Few of us pass through childhood without at least several minor mishaps; this type is said to occur some 300 million times a year. What about the little ones over which most of us just yell "Ouch!" of which there must be at least 3 billion in the United States alone every year!

TOMORROW: Readers' letters.

Exhilarating copy from a recent advertisement by a book publisher:

Ladies and gentlemen, these things are books. They keep quiet. They do not suddenly dissolve into wavy lines or snow-storm effects. They do not pause to deliver a message from their sponsors. # "This will not happen when BYRD IS GOVERNOR"

Says Wm. Preston Lane, Jr., Former Governor of Maryland

LANE PROVES THAT FOUR McKELDIN BUDGETS HAVE CAUSED TREASURY POSITION OF MARYLAND TO DETERIORATE $30,000,000.

THIS MEANS A WEAKENING IN STATE'S CASH REVENUE POSITION FOR 1955 EQUAL TO A TOTAL YEAR'S REVENUE FROM THE 2 CENTS SALES TAX.

UNLESS A TRAINED, ECONOMICAL AND INDUSTRIOUS PUBLIC ADMINISTRATOR IS ELECTED GOVERNOR, HEAVY ADDITIONAL STATE TAXES ARE INEVITABLE.

MARYLAND NEEDS BYRD—

One of the most important reasons I am supporting Dr. H. C. Byrd for the Democratic nomination for Governor is that I believe that he is the best equipped candidate to bring an end to the irresponsible and reckless manner in which Governor McKeldin has handled the State's finances. It is high time that the story be told and that the serious financial situation confronting the State be understood by the taxpayers.

McKELDIN'S BROKEN PROMISES—

It will be remembered that Governor McKeldin, when a candidate against me, criticized my budget as too large and extravagant, promised to reduce the appropriations, to reduce taxes and even to attempt to eliminate the sales tax completely. He also promised a lot of State improvements in various fields. He was elected on those promises.

McKELDIN BUDGET INCREASE 57%

My last budget totaled $150,818,000 (I am eliminating the exact dollars). Governor McKeldin's first budget was $170,966,000. Instead of being less, it was more than $20,000,000 over mine. And there have been heavy increases every year since. His last budget, to begin on July 1, is $237,384,000 or $86,566,000 more than my last budget. This increase is also 57%.

As a matter of fact, during the whole four years of my administration there was appropriated and spent a total of $555,760,000. During the four years of Governor McKeldin's administration there has been spent and appropriated to be spent a total of $816,347,000. This means that he has spent or appropriated to be spent during his term of office more than $260,000,000 or 50 per cent more than was spent during my administration.

Of course, Governor McKeldin never made an effort to reduce the sales tax, but has used all of it as received. Worse than that, when I went out of office, I left the State with a comfortable surplus of $12,731,000.

Practically all that is now gone too. As of March 31st last, there was but $69,000 in the general fund surplus. Everything else, including the double use of gross receipt taxes on utilities has been used to balance the budget starting on July 1, 1954, and ending June 30, 1955.

McKELDIN LEAVES STATE WITH 16 TO 20 MILLION DOLLAR DEFICIT

This, however, is only part of the story. The next Governor of Maryland is already faced with a deficit of nearly $16,000,000 for the budget year beginning July 1, 1955. In that fiscal year there will be no revenue from gross receipts taxes on utilities, because it was used to balance the 1955 budget; there will be no surplus (except, perhaps, the $69,000), the loss to the State from redistribution of liquor receipts will be $915,000, and decreases due to exemptions from the sales tax will be $60,000. The provisions for increased teachers salaries will require an additional $3,680,000, and increased aid to schools will cost an additional $2,207,000. All these items, for which additional revenues are required, total $15,801,000. And that is not all. There are other automatic increases in salaries to be provided for, and there is the danger that some of the estimates of anticipated revenues may have been too generous. The deficit, by the time the next Governor takes office, to be met in the 1955-56 budget may reach anywhere from 16 to 20 million dollars.

The figures I have given in this statement are conservative. The exhaustion of the surplus left by me in the State Treasury has been achieved despite the fact that Governor McKeldin has been using and estimating more annual receipts from the sales tax than in my administration. For instance, I had revenues of $30,482,000 but this year Governor McKeldin is expending $32,250,000 and is estimating $31,940,00 from the sales tax beginning on July 1, 1954.

The enormous expenditures made and provided for by Governor McKeldin during his administration up to the figure of $237,384,000 for 1955 have been and are being used without any great improvements or additions to Maryland's physical plant and other assets. The Chesapeake Bay Bridge, the modern hospital, educational and other welfare facilities which have been completed and dedicated during Governor McKeldin's administration were planned and provided for during the preceding administration.

BYRD WILL SOLVE MARYLAND'S PROBLEMS

I believe that Dr. Byrd, with his long and successful experience as head of the University of Maryland is the most likely of all the candidates to solve this serious problem to be left by Governor McKeldin when he is voted out of office in November of this year.

HERE'S HOW McKELDIN'S BUDGET GREW:—

Governor McKeldin allowed this alarming $30,000,000 deterioration in the cash position of the Maryland Treasury in four years.

McKELDIN HAS BUILT LITTLE

Despite the fact that he has paid for few if any large and visible public improvements such as those that were financed thru Governor Lane's preceding four budgets.

McKELDIN TAKES 11 MILLION DOLLARS MORE FROM AUTOS AND TRUCKS

Also Governor McKeldin takes and spends $11,603,814.00 more dollars from State automobile and truck owners in his next year's budget than did Lane's last budget and $2,257,194 more from the property owners than the increased State Real Estate Tax.

Governor McKeldin has also enjoyed the benefits of other substantial increases in the yield of various State taxes in his four years of futile effort to keep the position of the Maryland Treasury as sound as it was at the end of the last Democratic state administration.

Only a trained, capable, time proved, and economical public administrator has a chance to administer the finances of your State in a manner that will prevent heavy, large, additional State taxes.

McKELDIN WOULD NEED A 4 CENT SALES TAX FOR ANOTHER TERM

To continue at the rate he has been making budgets, Governor McKeldin would require a 4 cent Maryland Sales Tax to get through another term.

HARRY CLIFTON BYRD IS THE ONLY ANSWER

With his long proven ability to get the most in construction or services out of the taxpayers' dollar; with his magnificent ability in leading in the creation of the University of Maryland at College Park, with 53% of the cost provided by the United States government, private gifts and earnings and only 47% from the proceeds of State bond issues; with his generally accepted ability to successfully cooperate with the Legislature of Maryland in the public interest; with his complete acquaintance with all of the departments and services of the State government, Dr. Byrd is the one man who can most probably put Maryland back on a firm, safe financial basis without increased State taxes.

VOTE FOR YOUR OWN BEST INTERESTS JUNE 28th

As thoughtful citizens of Maryland vote for the man who can and will be the best Governor for your State and his running mates in the Democratic Primary June 28th.

VOTE FOR HARRY C. BYRD FOR THE DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION FOR GOVERNOR

VOTE FOR C. FERDINAND SYBERT FOR THE DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION FOR ATTORNEY GENERAL

VOTE FOR J. MILLARD TAWES FOR THE DEMOCRATIC NOMINATION FOR STATE COMPTROLLER

Navy Reserve Group Plans Long Cruise

Ten members of Cumberland Surface Division 5-9, Naval Reserve, will leave Norfolk, Va., Navy yards Saturday for a four-week cruise on a destroyer to Europe.

Lt. Cmdr. W. E. Woodson Jr., the commanding officer of the Naval and Marine Reserve Training Center, said while the destination of this cruise is unannounced, the liberty port will probably be somewhere in Europe.

The cruise is part of the required on-duty training of the Naval Reserve program.

They will board the USS Roberts at Norfolk this weekend for departure on the cruise as part of the destroyer's crew.

Another member of the Surface Division, Ensign Joseph W. McDaniel Jr., left for a two-week tour of duty on the USS Hemminger.

William G. Rice, president of Local 26, United Rubber Workers Union, who holds a rating of torpedoman's mate second class, is on a two-week cruise with the USS San Marcos.

This is the LSD (landing ship dock) to which Lt. Cmdr. Woodson has been transferred. Cmdr. Woodson will get sea duty after being assigned at the training center since 1951.

Swayne Will Attend Fellowship Assembly

Samuel Swayne, 300 Magruder Street, has been named to attend the Westminster Fellowship National Assembly at the University of Illinois from June 30 to July 6.

As a delegate to the event Swayne will be one of 1,200 young persons representing over 500 youths of the Presbyterian Church.

Pastors Received Into Presbytery

Two ministers who were announced recently as having accepted pastorates of the First Presbyterian Church, Washington Street, and Southminster Presbyterian Church, Race Street, and the Barton Presbyterian Church, were received into the Baltimore Presbytery at a meeting in Emmittsburg, Tuesday.

The Rev. Maurice D. Robertson, who was ordained in the Brooklyn-Nassau Presbytery, will come to the First Presbyterian Church on Washington Street on July 1. His official installation is set for October 1. He replaces the Rev. Seth C. Morrow, who accepted a call to a church in Orange, N. J.

The Rev. Elwood Carey, of the Lackawanna Presbytery, will take over his duties as pastor of the Southminster Presbyterian Church here and the Barton Presbyterian Church on July 7 the day following his ordination.

Will Receive Degree

Miss Anna Henckel Baker, 850 Glenn Savage Road, Mt. Savage, will graduate Sunday from the University of Illinois with a master of Science degree.

Caution Over Fourth Urged By Police

Police Chief R. Emmett Flynn advises Cumberland area motorists to "think ahead" concerning the long Fourth of July holiday weekend.

Traffic is expected to be heavy with hundreds of persons driving to summe. camps along the South Branch and Town Creek, and on Deep Creek Lake.

Many others plan trips to various cities to visit relatives or attend baseball games and other events, Flynn said, adding that district swimming pools probably will do a booming business.

For residents planning vacation trips, he warned that homes should be locked to "avoid placing the 'welcome mat' out for burglars."

Flynn pointed out that local authorities will cooperate with State Police in keeping traffic accidents at a minimum on streets and highways during the holiday weekend.

Fire crackers and other unnecessary noise makers will not be tolerated in Cumberland, he said. Patrolmen will receive instructions to arrest anyone caught setting off fireworks in violation of city and state regulations.

Don't let a foreign menu mystify you . . . be prepared for the unfamiliar phrases you'll find.

Secrets Of Charm

by John Robert Powers

Whether you are traveling abroad this summer or going no farther than the nearest nationality restaurant, it's wise to be familiar with the items you'll encounter on the bill of fare.

Certainly you've heard variations on the story of the individual who confidently pointed to one line of a French menu and was served nothing but a glass of water. It's not likely to happen to you, but it could—unless you are able to translate a few words of French and Italian.

Nothing so delights a waiter as to hear one of his native dishes ordered in a manner indicating your familiarity with the name of the specialty and its taste. You won't make much of an impression if you have to ask "what's in it?" or "how do you pronounce it?"

First Course

Let's start at the top of the menu. Probably you know that antipasto (on-ti-pahs-toe) is the Italian equivalent of the French hors d'oeuvres (or-du-vr) and that it is a selection of pate (pah-tay), vegetables, fish, eggs and other relishes or appetizers.

Soup is next. Do you know what a bisque (bisk) is? A potage (poe-tahj)? Minestrone (me-neh-stro-neh)? A bisque is a cream soup of shell fish; bisque d'homard (d'oh-mar) is cream of lobster soup. Minestrone is an Italian vegetable soup with a meat stock base. Potage is an unclarified soup, usually creamed, often made with potatoes.

Now for the main course. Au gratin (o-grah-tan) means a dish that has been sprinkled with grated cheese and put briefly under the broiler, or a dish baked with cheese. Jardiniere (zhar-de-nyare) indicates a dish is garnished with vegetables.

Meuniere, (mun-yare) is a dish cooked in butter, usually served with a slice of lemon. Pilaff or pilau (pil-law) is a dish made of rice boiled with meat, fowl or fish and spices. Florentine (flor-en-teen) is a dish combined with spinach, usually creamed spinach, and often with cheese as well.

Dessert Time

Lastly, of course, your dessert. Chantilly (shan-til-ly) tells you that a dish is combined with whipped cream. A compote (kom-pote) is cooked fruit. Macedoine (mass-a-dwahn) is cut-up fruit served as a dessert and often flavored with kirsch or Cointreau. Mousse (moose) is a frozen dessert of sweetened and flavored whipped cream or thin cream and gelatin, frozen without stirring.

It's fun to know these foreign food names and phrases, and wise to practice pronouncing them before you see them on the menu.

YOUR MOST ATTRACTIVE VOICE

You can achieve an appealing, resonant, sonorous voice — one that can be a vibrant attribute to charm and success—by reading the new booklet, YOUR MOST ATTRACTIVE VOICE, which gives complete instructions on how to overcome such wearisome speaking qualities as tonelessness, dullness, and lack of proper modulation. Write to Secrets of Charm in care of this newspaper, enclosing 10c in coin, plus stamped self-addressed envelope.

On The Line

Snead walked down it in terrible silence, his face a curious green. "Tough, Sam," a man finally ventured. But he didn't hear.

He walked into the locker room, sat down on a bench, and buried his head in his hands. There wasn't anything to say. There was no eruption of anger inside him until a bossy old New York sportswriter who had a knack for outrageous questions demanded:

"Well, now! Tell us why you did it?"

For a short period of time Snead must have thought of draining him with a sandwedge, confident any jury would acquit him. But his anger subsided. He survived and thereafter found much happiness, success, good jobs and money. There will never have to be a benefit for Samuel Jackson Snead. In almost any other major league sport he'd be through now—in his 40's and bald as an eagle. But Sam had this one great piece of unfinished business to attend to: Victory in the Open.

It has been written that this is his last chance to win. Nonsense. As we were saying at the beginning, old golfers never die. If they did, Sam Snead would have died that terrible afternoon in Philadelphia in the forgotten year of 1538, when knighthood was in flower and Hogan was but the name of a friendly saloon.

Moorefield Paper Owners To Resume Publication

MOOREFIELD, W. Va. — The owners of the Moorefield Examiner, Hardy County's only weekly newspaper, will take over its operation after a five-year lease to employes expires June 30.

The business was leased to them five years ago when the editor and manager, Ralph E. Fisher, went back into active Navy duty. The paper is owned by Fisher, his wife, Katherine and Mrs. Fisher's mother, Mrs. F. A. McCoy.

Charlton, High and Vance will remain on the staff of the paper. They will dissolve their partnership June 30.

Hi, Folks: Lake Embden, Maine

This is our last column for the summer. While you're reading this, we're on a cool lake in Maine. We would like to thank you merchants and our readers, especially those of you who wrote us, as you all helped to make our column a success.

★ ★ ★ ★

We drove to Maine in our new DeSoto, which we bought from Howard in LONACONING MOTORS. His new Plymouths are now in.

★ ★ ★ ★

Before taking our trip, we made sure our car was insured. Is yours? If not, call 5221, A. F. GREEN, INSURANCE, right away.

★ ★ ★ ★

We have our check book with us from the LIBERTY TRUST CO., Lonaconing Br.—a wonderful, safe way to carry money.

★ ★ ★ ★

For Dad we took a Gillette Super Speed Razor, plus a bow tie from STAKEM'S BOWLING ALLEY—only $1. Saw Ansco film.

★ ★ ★ ★

Rae had all her clothes cleaned at the CITY CLEANERS, INC., Piedmont. Call 7811, like she did, for good service.

★ ★ ★ ★

We stopped in R. E. KIMMEL PHARMACY and loaded up with Kodak camera supplies. Got flashlight batteries, bulbs, film and even a new camera. Have taken some swell snaps already.

★ ★ ★ ★

Kaye took a new Philco portable 2-way Radio & Plug, with built in flashlight with us from the UPPER POTOMAC TELEVISION, INC. They had new G.E. portables with cases there, too.

★ ★ ★ ★

Rae had her prescription filled where we knew drugs were always fresh—WAGNER'S DRUG STORE, Westernport—the drug store worthy of your trust.

★ ★ ★ ★

In ELLIS CONFECTIONERY, Ethel started us off with a delicious milkshake. We got magazines for the trip there, too.

★ ★ ★ ★

And, of course, we drove to Maine on a tank full of that super Amoco gas from ELLIS SERVICE STATION where Jack works.

★ ★ ★ ★

Now to shop in FROSTBURG: (Happy Birthday, Marie)

★ ★ ★ ★

We got some aluminum folding chairs with canvas & plastic seats and backs from HAFER'S. So convenient—we just folded them up and brought them up here to camp.

★ ★ ★ ★

Before starting, we visited JO-LE-KAY MARKET for some of their nice lunch meat and bread for sandwiches; also, pickles, plenty of fruit and a delicious watermelon.

★ ★ ★ ★

Call 52-J, IRWIN MEMORIALS to make arrangements for a stone cut with infinite care. A "Rock of Ages" dealer.

★ ★ ★ ★

We bought a pipe holder which holds 8 pipes for Rae's Dad. He's a pipe collector. Also, a man-sized ashtray at the GIFT SHOP. Why don't you visit them now for your Dad?

★ ★ ★ ★

We chose wonderful Samsonite luggage from the FROSTBURG DEPT. STORE for our trip. It has many excellent features.

★ ★ ★ ★

We went visiting yesterday and Kaye's clothes looked as fresh as when she got them back from D&S CLEANERS. Take a tip.

★ ★ ★ ★

Any Dad would be pleased with a shaving set and a box of Russell Stover candy from FORD'S FROSTBURG STORE.

★ ★ ★ ★

Kaye's hair is still the talk of this Maine summer resort. She had it done at NANCY'S BEAUTY SALON before we left.

★ ★ ★ ★

We left our valuable papers in a safety deposit box in the FROSTBURG NATIONAL BANK. It's always a wise move.

★ ★ ★ ★

We stopped in AL'S RESTAURANT. It's really beautiful, cool & clean. They serve delicious spaghetti and pizza pie.

★ ★ ★ ★

Woodie, in LAYMAN'S HARDWARE, asked us to remind you folks that have gas permits to be sure to get your installations before the July 31st deadline.

★ ★ ★ ★

What better gift for Dad than a watch from HOSKEN'S. They have Elgin, Hamilton, Bulova & Longine-Wittnaeur.

★ ★ ★ ★

Our wardrobe includes cotton skirts from the JACK POT, only $3.88, blouses $1.88 and shorts $1.98 each.

★ ★ ★ ★

Our last tip for the summer—for the cleanest and best used cars around, phone 300, MORTON'S GARAGE. See Fred.

★ ★ ★ ★

Bye now! Have a nice summer. See you in the fall.

Four Are Hurt In Auto Mishap

ROMNEY, W. Va. — Four young men were injured Wednesday night when their automobile skidded on wet West Virginia Route 28, about two and a half miles north of here, and crashed.

Taken to Newton D. Baker VA Center at Martinsburg via ambulance were Edward R. Rhodes, 23, of Romney, the driver, and Anthony Mazzaro, 18, who is stationed with the Air Force at Westover Field, Mass.

State Police Sgt. R. E. Schnell said Rhodes suffered possible chest injuries, while Mazzaro received a severe laceration and possible skull fracture. Their conditions are not considered serious.

Others in the car were Dewey Davis, 21, of Vanderlip, W. Va., and Roy Zirk, 22, of Romney. Both were treated by a physician for minor cuts and bruises.

Schnell said Rhodes' 1947 Mercury coupe hit a guard rail and then crashed against a bridge abutement. Mazzaro was thrown clear of the wreckage.

Trooper G. H. Phillips assisted in the investigation.

Army Engineers

Creek to a scale of 1 to 60. The model constructed of concrete included accurate reproductions of all bridge piers, embankments, and structures within the flood plain. Before tests of improvements were undertaken, the model was adjusted and checked for accuracy in reproducing floors which occurred in the prototype in 1936, 1937 and 1942.

After the adjustment of the model tests more than 135 plans and modifications of plans were made. These plans were either developed by the District Engineer on the basis of results obtained or during preliminary studies on the model in collaboration with representatives of the District Engineer who made several visits to the Waterways Experiment Station to observe special phases of the investigation.

Visits to Experiment Station were also made by representatives of the city of Cumberland.

Adopt Final Plan

The plans tested involved dredging, removal of obstruction, levees, floodwalls, modification of bridges and bridge piers, changes in channel alignment, cross-section, and slope modification in the dimensions and location of the industrial dam and dimensions of stilling basins.

In some cases, plans developed which were satisfactory from flood-protection standpoint had to be abandoned because of excessive cost or serious objections from local interest. The improvements now being constructed are in accordance with the final plan developed in the model which indicated a satisfactory design of channel and structures for protection of the Cumberland-Ridgeley area against floods somewhat greater than the 1936 flood.

Title Fight Round By Round

toe fighting but Rocky's strength and punches drove him back. Rocky's rights were high on Charles' head. He missed a right that made the mob gasp, then got in a very long one to the button that suddenly sent Charles wandering dazedly backward. Rocky pursued him but missed a dozen chances to finish the fight. With each miss, Charles recovered a bit more and was far from done at the end of the round.

ROUND ELEVEN

Charles dropped in a short right chop that stopped Rocky's charge. But the Brockton bruiser countered with a fierce right to Charles' jaw that stunned the brave former champion and made him hold. Rocky set him up for a kayo with a fine left hook, but missed the right that followed. Charles, groggy with punches, still got in two good rights at the end to keep his chances alive.

ROUND TWELVE

Charles opened Rocky's eye again in the first exchange. They were tired, and had to be separated for one of the first times. They traded punches at long range, with Rocky getting the better of the exchange. Charles snapped a good right to Rocky's bad eye. Neither seemed capable of harm at the bell.

ROUND THIRTEEN

ROUND FOURTEEN

ROUND FIFTEEN

They touched gloves diplomatically. Charles got in a left to the jaw. Rocky landed a hard short right. Charles blocked superbly when Rocky went all out in the hope of scoring a kayo. Then, on the offensive, Charles beat the champion to three punches. Rocky, in his rush, landed a great left hook on Charles' face, returned with a right and a flurry of other great punches. He drove Charles into the ropes under the savage blows, and was pumelling him without a reply from the challenger when the final bell sounded.

Robert F. "Bob" Duffy, of Bel Air, Md., who tied for first place in 1950 and paced the winning trainers in 1951 at Fairgo, is shipping 15 thoroughbreds from Harford county. Duffy recently returned from Greece where he taught horsemen in that country how to properly operate the Puett starting gate.

Willie Clark of Timonium is the latest of the jockeys to check in at Fairgo. Clark came here from the Thistledown meeting in Ohio.

Winning Formula

AP Newsfeatures

ELMONT, N. Y. — There are many young trainers around who wish they had Sunny Jim Fitzsimmons' formula for saddling winners. During the Belmont Park meeting, "Mr. Fitz," despite his 79 years, led the trainers' list with 20 winners.

Ted Atkinson, who is under contract to Greentree Stable but on occasion rides for Fitzsimmons-trained horses, led the jockeys with 48 winners, just double the number ridden by Eric Guerin, his nearest competitor. Jim Nichols rode 20 winners and Eddie Arcaro 18.

This bus will leave Cumberland at 10:10 p. m. daily except Sundays and holidays and go all the way through to Luke, arriving at Frostburg at 10:45 p. m.; Midland, 11:02 p. m.; Lonaconing, 11:10 p. m.; Barton, 11:20 p. m.; Westernport, 11:32 p. m., and at Luke 11:37 p. m.

The morning bus formerly leaving Frostburg at 5:35 a. m. has been stepped up to leave at 5:30 a. m. in order to enable B&O workers make connections in Cumberland at 6 a. m. for South End.

Another bus which formerly left Frostburg at 8:50 a. m. is now leaving at 8:45 a. m. to enable Cumberland store workers to arrive at a better time. It will be daily including Sundays and holidays.

Another bus from Frostburg to Cumberland has been added. It will leave the Mountain City at 3:05 p. m., every day.

On the Sunday and holidays one more bus has been added to fill in a big gap in the schedule. A run will leave Cumberland at 6:10 p. m. and go through to Luke.

Few Servicemen Request Ballots

There is little interest in the state and county primary election scheduled for June 28 in Allegany County as far as members of the armed forces are concerned.

So far, there have been only 10 absentee ballot applications obtained by members of our fighting forces, according to officials of the Allegany County Board of Election Supervisors. These absentee ballots will be marked by the servicemen and sent on to the secretary of state.

There have been seven Republicans and three Democrats in the armed forces who have requested absentee ballots. Any member of the armed services who is on leave, up until the primary election, can go to the board office at the Court House and vote one of the absentee ballots.

The absentee ballots will be returned to the board office by special courier at 7 p. m. on election night by the state secretary. They will then be counted and votes credited to the candidates selected by the servicemen.

Area Firemen Hear Talk By Kimble

The Goodwill Fire Company at Lonaconing Wednesday night heard a talk by State Senator Robert B. Kimble in the fireman's armory.

Sen. Kimble recalled that in 1932 when he became a delegate, there were eight fire companies in the county receiving a total appropriation from the county commissioners. Today the number of fire companies receiving aid has increased to 21. The total allotment from the county is $22,000. He noted his participation in the past years in firemen's legislation.

Kimble spoke on legislation he sponsored that set up a non-profit hospitalization insurance program.

He also noted workmen's compensation benefits of $167,000,000 paid out between 1938 and 1951 to 1,480,711 claimants. The money has helped the injured and the businessmen.

Farmers May Lose Recently Cut Hay

Many farmers in Allegany County will lose hay which they cut prior to the rainy weather of recent days and were unable to harvest, according to County Farm Agent Joseph M. Steger.

Steger said on a trip about the county in the past few days he saw many fields in which cut hay had been rained on. When hay is cut it takes a few days to cure, Steger pointed out, but if it has not been cured and placed in barns - rain will cause it to spoil.

$600,000 on the job, Flint should be willing to contribute to that (Red Cross) part of it."

He mentioned that "Worcester did contribute some $200,000" out of about two million collected for the Central Massachusetts Disaster Relief Committee, Inc.

Harriman said that in all three communities "they went beyond the needs of the people. They replaced losses to families without knowing—or in spite of knowing—whether it was needed or not."

In Flint, officials who had charge of tornado disaster relief were not immediately available for comment. In an editorial criticizing previous remarks of Harriman, the Flint Journal asserted Harriman "has smeared Flint's good name in a desperate effort to retard the national development of federated giving. Undoubtedly, it ismore than a coincidence that Flint and Michigan have been notable in the successful application of this principle."

The Journal said that Flint "largely through its Red Feather disaster fund, sought to supplement assistance as equitably as good minds could devise. High management, top labor, civic and business leaders, backed by the rank and file in every category, worked out a formula and application which have been described in social service circles as a great accomplishment. Not one cent was spent for overhead."

Niles Is Endorsed For Chief Judge

BALTIMORE, June 17 (AP) — The Maryland State Bar Assn., today endorsed Judge Emory H. Niles for elevation to the chief judgeship of the Supreme Bench of Baltimore.

Judge Niles was endorsed for the post earlier this week by the Bar Association of Baltimore City.

There is a vacancy because of the recent death of Chief Judge W. Conwell Smith.

3. University of Maryland alumni abound in the county and are expected to favor Byrd for his long association with the university, ending with his resignation as president last January to enter the campaign.

One of Allegany's leading Republicans, expressing the opinion that Gov. McKeldin would be renominated by his party and defeat either of the Democrats, gave Mahoney a substantial edge over Byrd in the primary.

Even a Mahoney man, however, conceded that Byrd looks strong in Frederick County.

"Six weeks ago I'd have given Byrd a 3 or 4-1 edge here," he said, "but now it isn't nearly that big."

Soundings produced similar descriptions of Byrd prospects in Washington and Montgomery Counties, both of which went 2-1 against Mahoney in 1950.

In Washington, Lane is reported to have re-entered the political wars with gusto after temporarily withdrawing when McKeldin beat him in the 1950 general election. The former governor's followers say he is thinking about a run in 1956 for the U.S. Senate seat occupied by Republican John Marshall Butler.

The Byrd campaign in Montgomery is headed by Edward S. Northrop, and E. Brooke Lee, another veteran party chieftain from the same county, is manager of statewide campaign headquarters in Baltimore.

Mahoney named Thomas Carolan of Bradley to lead his drive in Montgomery but announced no Washington County chairman.

Although it has been shoved into the background by the fight for the top spot on the ticket, the congressional primary holds the interest of national party leaders. They are hopeful of edging out Republican DeWitt S. Hyde, who stepped in when Beall moved on to the Senate.

F. Byrne Austin of Takoma Park, Charles M. Irelan of Silver Spring, and Edward J. Ryan of Frostburg are running for the Democratic nomination, while Hyde is unopposed.

Dividend Of Stock Shares Declared By Local Bank

The capital stock of the Commercial Savings Bank, North Liberty Street, has been increased from $75,000 to $100,000 and each stockholder will receive a stock dividend of 33⅓ per cent on June 30.

This dividend will be represented by an additional certificate for one share of the par value $100 for each three shares of $100 par value owned June 29, 1954. A scrip certificate for one-third or two-thirds of a share will be issued for such holdings not devisable by three.

The $25,000 additional capital stock being paid in the form of a stock dividend was authorized at a recent meeting of stockholders. The capitalization of the bank, reflecting the stock dividend, will be: Capital stock, $100,000; surplus, $100,000 and undivided profits, approximately $25,000.

The increase in the capital and payment of the stock dividend were recommended by the board of directors, approved by the state bank commissioner and the Federal Deposit Insurance Corporation, of which the bank is a member.

Just five years ago, June 30, 1949, the bank paid a 50 per cent stock dividend to its stockholders. The officers state that although the bank has paid annual cash dividends for many years, it has been the main aim to increase the capital assets by retaining most of the earnings. This has been done to such an extent that the ratio of capital assets to deposits is considerably stronger than the national average.

The officers further state that future cash dividends will, of course, be payable on the total capital stock as increased by the stock dividend, and should mean, if conditions justify, an increased cash return to the stockholders.

The officers and directors are: Wilbur V. Wilson, president; George C. Cook, vice president and cashier; William C. Dudley, assistant cashier; Joseph H. Reinhart and John L. Wellington, directors. The officers are also directors.

Cleveland Beats Nats, 6-4, For 8th Straight Victory

Tribe Sweeps Series, Retains 3-Game Lead

CLEVELAND, June 17 (AP)—Breezing to an easy victory after scoring three runs in the first inning, the Cleveland Indians ran their winning streak to eight games today with a 6-4 decision over the Washington Nationals. Early Wynn got credit for his eighth pitching victory against four losses.

By sweeping the three-game series against the Nats, the Indians held their three-game lead over the second place Chicago White Sox.

The Tribe, which got only five hits, took advantage of Frank Shea's wild pitching for their first three runs.

Shea hit Rudy Regalado with a pitched ball and walked two other men in the opening inning. Regalado scored on Vic Wertz' double and then Wally Westlake's single sent in two more runs.

Wynn gave way to reliefer Bob Hooper after walking three Nats in the seventh. A fly by Mickey Vernon and a single by Roy Sievers produced two Nat runs after Wynn left the mound.

Vernon cracked a home run in the ninth after Johnny Pesky walked.

Cleveland's other runs were in the third, when Larry Doby scored on a fly by Dave Philley; in the fifth, when George Strickland got on base on an error and scored on Doby's single, and in the eighth, when Doby doubled and got to the plate on a fly by Philley.

Hershey Golfer Shoots Hole-In-One In Open

SPRINGFIELD, N. J., June 17 (AP)—Johnny Weitzel of Hershey, Pa., gave the National Open Golf Tournament gallery a thrill on the opening round today when he sank a hole-in-one.

Weitzell, shooting with a two-iron, fired the ace on the par-three, 190-yard 12th hole.

It was a high shot that soared straight down the fairway, dropped 14 feet away from the cup and rolled in.

The ace was the first in Weitzel's career.

Zuverink Hurls Detroit To Win

DETROIT, June 17 (AP) — Giant George Zuverink, a 6-foot-4 sinker ball specialist, allowed no hits in the last 4 2-3 innings in pitching the Detroit Tigers to a 2-1 victory over the staggering Boston Red Sox today.

It was Zuverink's third win against two losses and his third complete game in six starts. In trials with Cincinnati and Cleveland, he never won and never pitched a complete game.

Fred Hatfield and Jim Delsing, a pair of light hitters, knocked in Detroit's runs. Tom Brewer, who pitched the first seven innings dropped his fourth game against two victories—both of the wins being against the Tigers. It was the Sox' ninth defeat in the last 10 games.

Chisox Outlast Athletics, 6-4

Zernial Hits 3-Run Homer In 7th Frame

CHICAGO, June 17 (AP)—The Yankee-worried Chicago White Sox got a scare from pinch-hitter Gus Zernials' three-run homer today but outlasted the Philadelphia's A's 6-4.

The second-place Sox nearly "rested up" too much for tomorrow night's Yankee invasion as the A's punched four runs across on two homers in the seventh to hack at a 6-0 Chicago lead.

Zernial, in Manager Eddie Joost's doghouse since a verbal clash last Friday, hit his three-run homer two batters after Bill Wilson smashed a home run to lead off the seventh.

No-Hit Wilson Tames Dodgers

Milwaukee Pounds Johnny Podres, 6-4

BROOKLYN, June 17 (AP) — Jim Wilson defied the jinx that usually follows a no-hit game by pitching the Milwaukee Braves to a 6-4 victory over Brooklyn today to drop the Dodgers two full games behind the league-leading Giants.

Wilson, who held the Philadelphia Phillies hitless and runless in his last start, was tagged for eight hits, seven of them for extra bases, but was carried to his third straight triumph by the home run hitting of Ed Mathews, Hank Aaron and Danny O'Connell.

Mathews cracked his 12th homer of the season off loser Johnny Podres with a runner on base to supply the ultimate margin of victory.

Title Fight By Rounds

ROUND ONE

Charles connected with a side-armer right that made Rocky stumble a mile. Charles' seven inch superiority in reach seemed evident. Charles, unafraid, roughed the champion. Rocky charged behind a rugged left hook, and a moment later dropped in a short hard right that disconcerted Charles.

ROUND TWO

Charles dug to the champ's stomach with a right and left. The challenger slipped a Marciano hook. Rocky charged but Charles easily moved out of range. Rocky reached him with a long right to the jaw, but it had no sting. Charles got in a short right to the head and slashed the champion across his hard belly. Rocky's nose bled a bit.

ROUND THREE

Charles pushed him around almost as if he owned the champion, whose nose began leaking again. Rocky got in a solid right to the challenger's side. Rocky bulled his way in, missing a tremendous right to the jaw by half an inch, he charged again with a left hook but Charles moved around easily and let him go by like a bull. The challenger, a slippery one, caught Rocky's punches on his arms and pushed him around almost as he willed as the bell sounded.

ROUND FOUR

Rocky nailed him with a hook to the jaw. Charles, unhurt, boxed well as he retreated, and opened a bloody cut over Rocky's left eye. Charles stabbed at the cut, and as Rocky worried about it—and rubbed it—Charles got in a fine series of punches that hurt Rocky. Charles flung him about, then nailed him with a straight right. Rocky, worried over the eye, kept coming in against the better boxer. His battery of handlers worked furiously on his eye during the rest period.

ROUND FIVE

Charles hit Rocky on his sore eye with a straight right shot and partly reopened the wound. Rocky concentrated on the challenger's body. Charles pushed him away almost contemptuously as Rocky charged clumsily. Rocky, concentrating now, got the better of a close-in tussle. He was staying closer to his man now, and roughing Charles. The champion was thunderously booed when he threw a savage right hand at Charles's jaw, a split-second after the bell sounded.

ROUND SIX

Rocky's right to the body spun Charles away. Charles missed a chopping right and took a beating around the body, followed by a short sharp right to the jaw that hurt him. Rocky, full of fury, went after him and battered him with a fusilade of lefts and rights that had the challenger glassy eyed. The champion fought with all he had for a knockout. But Charles hung on gamely, weathered the tremendous barrage, opened Rocky's eye again and fought him toe to toe. It was a round that left the mob limp, and which saw both fighters so exhausted from their efforts that they could hardly raise their hands.

ROUND SEVEN

Refilled with life, they went after each other greedily until Rocky slipped in a hard right that shook Charles badly. Charles fenced like a master, brought blood from Rocky's left eye again, hit the champion a thumping right in the body, and gave him a boxing lesson. Rocky's eye was a sight not to behold.

ROUND EIGHT

Charles, more than willing, fought toe to toe with the slugger who had knocked out 40 of his 45 straight victims and held his own. Charles' left hook was a clean point. Rocky tried to come under from beneath with a right but Charles was ready. Rocky missed a hard right and Charles tied him up. But Rocky fought loose and nailed Charles with a hard left hook to the head, opening a cut over Charles' right eye. Both bled at the round's end.

ROUND NINE

Rocky, not a little desperate, started throwing them in from all parts of the Yankee Stadium outfield. His eye was spilling bright blood down his cheek. A long Rocky right caused Charles to hesitate, and a shorter right—followed by another — hurt and dismayed Charles. Rocky tried to measure him, swung a right and missed by a foot. The champion missed clumsily with a right but landed a good left hook before the round ended. It was his best round.

ROUND TEN

Charles drove to the body and stood his ground in fierce toe to

Giants Win, Boost Lead To Two Games Over Brooklyn

NEW YORK, June 17 (AP)—Held to two widely scattered singles, the New York Giants took advantage of two Cincinnati errors and two bases on balls to score two unearned runs in the fifth inning and went on to nip the Redlegs 2-1 for their sixth straight victory today.

The victory, coupled with Milwaukee's triumph over Brooklyn, increased the Giants' first place lead over the Dodgers to two full games.

Johnny Antonelli went the route for the Giants, yielding five hits for his ninth victory against two losses and the Giants' 15th success in their last 18 games. The young southpaw fanned one and did not walk a batter.

Antonelli's own error furnished the Reds with their lone run. That came in the third when Roy McMillan singled, took second on pitcher Art Fowler's sacrifice and came all the way home when Nino Escalera beat out an infield hit down the first base line and Antonelli fumbled Whitey Lockman's toss.

The Cincinnati defense went to pieces behind Fowler in the fifth, enabling the Giants to pick up their winning margin. Antonelli walked after Ray Katt had flied out. Lockman bounced to Ted Kluszewski whose throw to second for a possible forceout was dropped by McMillan. After Alvin Dark walked to fill the bases, second baseman Johnny Temple fumbled Hank Thompson's double play grounder permitting Antonelli to score the tying run.

Lockman crossed the plate with the winning run on Monte Irvin's forceout of Thompson at second.

Amateur Billy Joe Patton Fires Sub-Par 69, Cops First Round Lead In National Open Meet

Toski, Kroll, Littler Trail At 70; Hogan Shoots 71, Snead 72

By WILL GRIMSLEY

SPRINGFIELD, N. J., June 17 (AP)—Amateur Billy Joe Patton—loose, bold and lucky—brought memories of Bobby Jones back to old Baltusrol today when he fired a one-under-par 69 for the first round lead in the National Open Golf Tournament.

The 32-year-old, wisecracking lumberman from Morganton, N.C., darling of the Masters at Augusta last April, was the only player to crack the elusive par of this 7,027-yard, liberally-trapped layout.

Ben Hogan, the tight-lipped champion who is seeking his fifth Open title for a record number, had to be content with a hard-earned 71. Sam Snead, the sore-necked co-favorite, registered a 72.

Tied for second place—at even par 70—were a pair of golf's feather-weights — Bob Toski, the 127-pound rifler from Livingston, N.J., and Ted Kroll of New Hartford, N. Y. and Gene Littler, last year's national amateur champion.

Ben Hogan Posts 71

Hogan's 71 put him in a three-way tie with Al Mengert, 25-year-old assistant professional of winged foot in Mamaroneck, N. Y., and Ed Furgol, the St. Louis pro with the withered right arm.

Snead was one of nine pros bracketed at 72, still in the thick of contention. The list included three former champions, Lew Worsham, Lloyd Mangrum and Cary Middlecoff.

This is the first time in 25 years that an amateur has jumped off to the first round lead in this 54-year-old event. Atlanta's grand slammer, Bob Jones, was the last to do it back in 1929 at Winged Foot.

Goodman Won In 1933

Johnny Goodman, however, won the Open in 1933—the last amateur to do the trick.

Hogan got a bad round out of his system and fortunately without leaving himself too far off the pace.

His drives didn't seem to carry their usual length. His irons were spotty. He caught the rough on one par-three hole and a trap on another.

He three-putted the 444-yard third green for a bogey and missed a half-dozen other putts of between six and ten feet. These are the ones he usually makes. He got only two birdies—on the second and 11th holes, both on six-foot putts.

The champion went out in 35, one over par, and played the long, challenging backside in even 36.

Patton's round was a monument to the young Southerner's scrambling ability. He drove into the rough six times, banged into five traps and then rescued himself with eight one-putt greens.

15,000 Attend Tourney

The crowd was estimated at 15,000 by club members. Most of them divided their attention among Hogan, Snead and Patton.

Patton gave them a thrill by nailing a birdie on the 18th, throwing a sly wink and a wave of the hand before hitting home a three-foot putt for a four.

Snead started by hooking his tee shot into a fence and having to play out left-handed. He was in the rough twice more before finally reaching the green and getting a fortunate bogey 5.

However, he got even by sinking an uphill 40-foot putt for a deuce on the short fourth and he finished in good shape, despite a plaguing muscle ailment on the back of the neck.

Toski, 27-year-old New Englander who is one of nine children, proved himself a heavyweight slugger despite his reedy, featherweight build. He was outdriving his partner, Bobby Locke of South Africa sometimes by 50 yards. Locke, three times British Open champion, finished with a 74, tied with a half-dozen players.

Keeping Up With Hollywood

by Louella Parsons

HOLLYWOOD, June 17—William Holden is on a cruise around the world for Paramount to demonstrate Vistavision. Today he's in Hong Kong.

One person who has been in touch with Bill is Richard English. That's because Bill has formed Toluca Productions, his own production company, and his first picture will be an original by Dick called "Viva Americano." The time is 1867, when some of the Confederates moved to Brazil rather than face carpet bag rule. The South American government will help, since the picture will show how Brazil aided the U.S.A.

Dick spent a lot of time in South America when he went there to write a series of articles for one of the national magazines.

P.S.: Brenda Marshall (Mrs. Holden) joins Bill in a few weeks in Italy.

"Ben Hur" will be made in the Todd-AO process after "Oklahoma!" is finished. While Nicholas Schenck was here, his brother Joseph showed him some new tests for "Oklahoma!" In this process and he was greatly impressed. Meanwhile, Joe is at his MGM office practically every day.

Oscar Hammerstein returned from New York, and the latest casting for "Oklahoma!" (with his approval, of course) is James Whitmore as Paw, Ado Annie's father. Ado Annie, as you know, is Gloria Grahame.

I've heard a lot of stories about the Fuller Brush man. But this one is a switch in technique.

The Fuller Brush representative who covers the district where bandman Ted Fio Rito lives told him about a girl down the street with a gorgeous voice. Someone is always telling Ted something like this and it went in one ear and out the other.

On the next visit, Mr. Brush brought along a tape recording of the gal down the block. Result—22-year-old Charlene Campbell, as lovely to look at as she sounds, is just about to become a vocalist in the Fio Rito band — thanks to the Brush man who wouldn't take "no" for an answer.

In the days when I was working on a Chicago newspaper, The Chicago Record Herald, there was a persistent and attractive press agent by the name of Ralph Kettering, who used to bring me "hot" publicity yarns.

Today, Ralph, who is still going strong at the age of 65, telephoned to say that he is the advance P.A. for "Caine Mutiny Court Martial" and goes to San Francisco to open it on July 5. No date has yet been set for Los Angeles.

Snapshots of Hollywood collected at random: Carol Marcus Saroyan, writer William Saroyan's ex, will visit Oona O'Neill Chaplin (Mrs. Charlie) in Switzerland.

The former Gary Cooper house will be the home of the sisters who teach at the new St. Martin of Tours School.

There's a big drive going on from the fans who write me that Guy Madison should play Lindbergh in "The Spirit of St. Louis." He'd be excellent.

All Beverly Hills is pulling for popular Judge Chares J. Griffin, a neighbor, to get well in a hurry. He suffered a heart attack over the weekend.

My exclusive that Mrs. Rod Cameron, estranged from Rod, is expecting a baby in about six months, surprised everyone. Rod, who moved in with her mother, has now taken an apartment of his own, while Mrs. Cameron is living alone.

Gregory Peck lunching at the Beverly Hills Hotel with a group, was discussing establishing a winter home for the La Jolla Playhouse in Los Angeles.

The biggest thrill Gary Crosby had when he returned home after his first radio show was that Bing didn't have a single adverse criticism. How could he — the boy is good.

Pilar Palette has gone to St. George, Utah, to visit John Wayne who is there on location with "The Conqueror." The company is shooting around Susan Hayward, who's occupied with her troubles with Jess Barker.

Apparently Chata Wayne postponed her trip to Mexico, because she was at the Gourmet Beverly with Quay Sargeant.

That's all today. See you tomorrow!

Ernest B. Treat, Tax Collector, having made a report to this Court of the Sale of all that real estate in Election District No. 1, and particularly described in a deed from Continental Trust Company to William O. Elliott, dated the 16th day of February A.D. 1915 and recorded in Liber No. 116, folio 111, one of the Land Records of Allegany County, Maryland, together with all the proceedings had in relation thereto, and said proceedings having been examined by this Court, and the same appearing to be regular and the provisions of the law in relation thereto appearing to have been complied with it, it is thereupon this 27th day of May, 1954, by the Circuit Court for Allegany County, Maryland, adjudged and ordered that notice be given by advertisement published once a week for three successive weeks in one newspaper published in Allegany County, Maryland, before the 30th day of June, 1954, commanding all persons interested in said property to be and appear in this Court on or before the 16th day of July, 1954, to show cause, if any they have why said sale should not be ratified and confirmed. The report states the amount of sale to be $115.00.

Yankees Wallop Jittery Orioles

Head For Chicago After 9-2 Triumph

BALTIMORE, June 17 (AP) — The New York Yankees had an easy time today walloping the jittery Baltimore Orioles 9-2 to sweep the three-game series and go westward to Chicago with eight victories in their last nine games.

The Orioles hardly could do anything right as a short single to center by Mickey Mantle cleared the bases in the sixth inning. A single by Gene Woodling and double by Irv Noren the same inning drove in two more runs.

That inning saw the finish of pitcher Bob Turley who helped get himself into the hole by failing to throw to second in time for an easy force out.

Long On Repetition

If you've been mooning about, wondering what you're going to see this summer after the regular shows go off the air, you can now relax with the assurance that there will be very little that is startlingly new. In fact, you will very likely be looking not only at the same tired old faces but also at the same tired old shows.

John Crosby

A nice way to save a little dough is to repeat "by popular request" (don't go asking who made the request because it won't do you the slightest good) the quote best unquote shows of a particular series. "The Best of Groucho Marx" is now an established summer favorite and it has been conspicuously successful.

Groucho really started something there that is about to get out of hand. The Marx show is of a type peculiarly adaptable to repetition. Even if you have caught the particular show, it's kind of fun to watch Groucho do it all over again. However this doesn't apply to just every show.

In particular, it doesn't apply to most dramatic shows but I'm afraid that isn't going to stop anyone from presenting the oldies anyhow. There's nothing more irritating than recognizing, after five or ten minutes of a drama, that you have undergone this experience once before and that it was something less than memorable.

One of the repeat series, already on the air, is "Top Plays of 1954" (NBC-TV 9:30 p.m. EDT Tuesdays). This one started off with a little honey called "The Happiest Day" starring Larry Parks and Teresa Wright. It was a rather tired collection of clishes about a doctor and wife who had drifted apart because they had got so all-fired rich, a type of drama rich in lines like "What's happened to us? Where did we lose our way?," questionus which are never satisfactorily answered.

Along with "Top Plays," we will also have the chance to see again eight of the most popular "Fireside Theater" plays, popularity in this case being determined by fan mail. Now, fan mail is fun to read but it is hardly ever a harbinger of general excellence (which Fireside Theater manages very successfully to avoid, anyhow); in fact, it is more often a salute to shining mediocrity. If you're going to pick "the best" of anything, I'd much rather place my trust in a director or producer who usually know when they turn out something outstanding. But then that's the way it's going to be.

You're going to run into that word "best" all over the place. Another one will be the "Best in Mystery," consisting of eight filmed mystery dramas, culled from about 100 filmed mysteries most of which have done the rounds before. If there's anything less mysterious than a mystery you've seen before, I can't think what it is but if warmed over mystery is your dish, you'll find it on NBC-TV 9 p.m. EDT Fridays, starting July 16.

Other re-runs you will have to contend with are "Mister Peepers" (a rather ticklish one because Peepers is now married to his beloved and in these old ones he will be still courting her) Burns and Allen, General Electric Theater, "Four Star Playhouse," "Big Town," Danny Thomas, "Ozzie and Harriet," "Mr. and Mrs. North," "I Married Joan," "My Little Margie," "Dragnet," "Ford Theater," and "Ethel and Albert."

No, not everyone is going in for re-runs. Kraft's two-hour-long dramatic shows, one on Wednesday and one on Thursday, will continue to turn out new plays twice a week. (They have produced almost 400 of them.) And "Studio One" and the Montgomery dramatic series will each do its usual summer series of new works.

But apart from those, it's going to be a long and repetitious summer.

KEEP YOUR ADVANTAGE

OFFSETTING, to one extent or another, the privileges enjoyed by the declarer, who has reached a No Trump game contract through voluntary action by himself and his partner, the defense has usually a lesser advantage in the opening lead. It gains one unit of time in the effort to establish something in its own suit, as against the declarer setting up one of his own. So, unless you have a strong reason to shift suits during the play, it is well for you on the defense to stick to the first one led.

By various routes that contract was reached at a number of tables in a duplicate, the opening lead in each case being the fourth-best spade 3. From there in, the result depended on whether or not the defenders continued to lead spades whenever they could.

Where East won the opening trick with the spade A and then returned his own fourth-best 2, the contract was beaten. To follow one case, South won that and led the diamond K, the single-ton A winning. The spade 9 came back to the Q. Now South scored the club K and led the 10, letting the J win. West returned the spade 7 to the 8 and East now offered the heart 5, the Q losing to the K to put the contract down one. Later South lost a diamond to the J, so was set a second trick.

Where East, upon winning with the spade A, shifted to the club 2, the contract was made. The purpose of that was that dummy's heart length seemed menacing, and the club A was available as an entry which maybe should be removed. After West split honors, with his J, South let it win, then took the returned club Q with the K. The diamond K went to the A and the club 5 to the A enabled South also to score dummy's 9, on which the heart Q was discarded. The diamond 6 was led to the 10 and Q and the 9 given up to the J for the defenders' fourth trick. But that was all, as declarer now had a solid situation for the remaining tricks to make his contract.

What is the best defense against South's 1-No Trump after West leads the 2 of his partner's hearts?

Card of Thanks

We wish to extend our sincere thanks to our friends, neighbors and relatives for their kindness and expressions of sympathy extended to us during our recent bereavement, the death of our beloved father, W. Scott Marvin. We especially wish to thank Rev. Howard Amoss, the Pallbearers, those who sent floral tributes and those who donated the use of their cars.

The Children

We take this means of expressing our sincere thanks to our friends, relatives and neighbors who were so kind to us in our bereavement, the death of our beloved father, Mr. Adam L. Bittinger. We also wish to thank those who sent floral tributes and donated cars for the funeral.

In Memoriam

A tribute of love to my beloved husband, Edwin F. Petenbrink, who passed away one year ago today, June 18, 1953.

Do not ask if I miss him,
There's such a vacant place;
Oft I think I hear his footsteps
And see his smiling face.
Days of sadness still come o'er me,
Tears in silence often flow;
Memory keeps him ever near me,
Though he left me one year ago.

Sadly missed by HIS LOVING WIFE

Doub Boy Faces Traffic Charges In Accident

PIKESVILLE, Md., June 17 (AP)—George Cochran Doub, Jr., 14-year-old son of the U.S. attorney for Maryland and the boy's mother, Mrs. Sophy Tayloe Doub, were arrested on traffic charges today after their car, driven by young Doub, struck a 3-year-old boy here.

Pikesville Police said the victim, James Thompson, 3, son of Mr. and Mrs. Albert F. Thompson, was taken to Union Memorial Hospital in Baltimore with multiple lacerations of the head and face and contusions of the legs. The boy's father is co-owner of Thompson Trailer Corp. of Pikesville.

Hospital authorities said the boy was in surgery for two hours after the family sent for Dr. Robert W. Johnson III, a plastic surgeon.

Young Doub was charged with reckless driving and driving without a license and his mother was charged with permitting an unauthorized person to operate the car.

Patrolman I. Mason, who investigated the accident, quoted young Doub as saying he was doing between 30 and 35 miles an hour when the Thompson boy ran into the street in front of the car.

The driver said he jammed on the brakes and swerved the car to avoid hitting the child but wasn't in time.

David Thompson, 9, brother of the injured boy, said he was sitting on a steep bank across the street from the Thompson home and his young brother was on their front lawn when the Doub car approached. He said James ran out into the road.

David said his brother was hit in the legs and thrown up on the hood of the car, according to Patrolman Mason.

Brig. General Joseph D. Caldara, of Mt. Savage, has been placed in command of the intercontinental bombers based on Guam to provide the United States with a powerful striking force in the Far East.

He will be in charge of the Strategic Air Command's 3rd Air Division, which is being pulled out of Japan and moved to Anderson Air Force Base on Guam.

Within a short time, the base will be the headquarters for swift, giant jet bombers, protected behind a vast radar screen and ready to strike wherever needed in the Far East.

Flew Combat Mission

Gen. Caldara became commander of the Far East Bomber Command in Japan in February.

A veteran of 30 combat missions in World War II, Gen. Caldara had been in command of the 21st Air Division in Topeka, Kan., for 15 months, when he was named to the Far East post.

The Air Force general started his military career as an infantry officer following his graduation from the University of Maryland in 1931.

At the end of a year of Army service, he transferred to the Air Force and was a member of the first graduating class at Randolph Field, Texas.

Two years later, he was placed on reserve status and accepted a civilian position until he returned to active duty in 1940.

During World War II, he was a pilot and commander of B-17 and B-24 squadrons in the South Pacific, where he served for 18 months.

He was promoted to the rank of brigadier general in 1952 and wears the Legion of Merit and the Air Medal with an Oak Leaf Cluster.

Rail Shipments In Next Quarter Forecast Lower

Transportation Men Hear Prediction

Carload commodity shipments in the Allegheny Region, embracing parts of Maryland, West Virginia, Pennsylvania and Ohio, in the third quarter of 1954 will be about 16.5 per cent under the total for the corresponding three months of 1953.

That forecast was presented yesterday to some 165 shippers and railroaders from the four states at a joint meeting of the executive and railroad contact committees of Allegheny Regional Advisory Board at Ali Ghan Country Club.

The Allegheny Regional Advisory Board, one of 13 such groups in the United States, was formed in 1926. It conducts quarterly meetings and the last one in Cumberland before yesterday was 27 years ago. Next meeting will be at Youngstown, Ohio, September 15 and 16.

Decreased Shipments

In the forecast for the months of July, August and September, the board predicts decreased shipments in the three principal products hauled, coal and coke, iron and steel and brick and clay products.

Coal and coke will be down 18 per cent from the same period of 1953, from 556,266 carloads to 456,138 carloads. Iron and steel will be off 14.1 per cent, from 212,364 to 182,421 carloads. Brick and clay products will be down 9.4 per cent, from 21,021 to 19,045 carloads, according to the forecast.

The fourth major commodity on which a forecast was offered, vehicle parts, will be up 5.5 per cent, from 9,834 to 10,375 carloads, the forecasters say. In the overall picture for 24 different commodities, the prediction is for 757,719 carloads this year in July, August and September compared with last year's 907,522.

Supplemental Items

A forecast on supplemental items including shipper figures only, shows an 8.6 per cent decrease from 72,372 to 66,150 carloads. The biggest item on this list is glass bottles and containers, which will be down 3 per cent, from 19,148 to 18,574 carloads.

Principal speaker at yesterday's luncheon meeting was E. W. Coughlin, manager of railroad relations, Car Service Division, Association of American Railroads in Washington.

Although he declined to offer any definite predictions on the national transportation situation, Coughlin emphasized that the increasing birth rate provides an excellent opportunity for better business. He observed that every hour in the United States the population increases by 320 persons.

The speaker offered two main suggestions. One was that railroads try to get boxcars in high grade condition with a reasonable expenditure of money. Many shippers hesitate to send high grade commodities in inferior boxcars needing repair.

He also commended the marked increase in getting freight cars on their home rails as a method of boosting efficiency. In a nearby city, he pointed out, a shipper was sending out two carloads of his product. One car belonged to the Southern Pacific Railroad and the other to the Pennsylvania Railroad. The foreman on the loading platform dispatched the Southern Pacific car to Pittsburgh and the Similar classes for adults will get underway next week, Pence said.

Up to 100 teen-agers are expected to participate in the youth program which is being offered from 10 a. m. to noon at the Dingle courts on Mondays, at Fort Hill High School on Wednesdays and at Gephart Playgrounds on Fridays.

Van Sant said those interested in tennis instruction may register at the courts at any time, and that tennis racquets and balls will be furnished by the Recreation Department.

Adult tennis classes will be offered beginning next week, and continue for eight weeks.

Classes will be held on Wednesdays from 6:30 to 8:30 p. m. at Fort Hill High School and on Fridays from 6:30 to 8:30 p. m. at Gephart Playground.

Wildcat Hollow Dispute Aired

Another phase in the long-standing Wildcat Hollow Road dispute developed yesterday when Associate Judge George Henderson heard testimony in Allegany County Circuit Court on a contempt of court petition.

Last October 20, Judge Henderson permanently enjoined Mrs. Geraldine M. Messersmith, her agents and servants, particularly James Bonner, from interfering with the use of Wildcat Hollow Road in any manner.

On April 14, Michael H. Pryor and his wife, Mrs. Margaret B. Pryor, filed a petition charging that Bonner was in contempt of court.

Judge Henderson visited the scene of the dispute yesterday with Matthew J. Mullaney, attorney for Mrs. Messersmith and Bonner, and Earl E. Manges, attorney for the Pryors. The judge took the matter under advisement.

Women Hear Farm Expert From Holland

Says Agriculture Key To Foreign Trade

COLLEGE PARK, Md., June 17 (AP)—A Dutch farm expert said today American agriculture is pricing itself out of world trade through government supports and urged that farmers speak up for their interests.

Dr. R. L. Beukenkamp, agricultural attache at The Netherlands Embassy in Washington, made the statement in an address before 1,062 women attending the University of Maryland's 28th annual rural women's short course.

"Agriculture is the key to foreign trade," said Dr. Beukenkamp. "What is good for the farmer is good for the rest of the world, and what is good for the rest of the world is good for the farmer.

"There is a great danger that in many respects the most powerful partner in the free world today, the United States, does not sufficiently participate in the international trade of agricultural commodities."

He said the United States cannot remain indifferent to the fact that 90 per cent of the world's population is undernourished and that there should be agricultural plenty.

He said American wheat farmers, for example, had remained under "an umbrella of price supports which has forced former wheat importing countries to become wheat producers. The same thing has happened in other products.

"American agriculture prices itself out of world trade," he added.

The women also heard from John Harvey Furbay, a director of Trans World Airlines.

He told them changes were coming into the world too fast for many people. He called for a global outlook and an open mind to progress.

The short course ends tomorrow with graduation exercises for four women who have attended for four years.

The Weather

The steady downpour of rain yesterday made it compulsory for residents to don raincoats and carry umbrellas. A good soaking rain valuable to gardens and lawns, pushed the total rainfall for June over the average. The high temperature yesterday was 59 degrees, the low was 57 and at 7:30 p. m. the mercury stood at 58. Humidity at 6 p. m. was 100 per cent. Total rainfall was .77 inches at 7:30 p. m. Forecast for today is mostly cloudy and a little warmer with a chance of showers. The temperature is expected to reach the 70s.

City Receives Good Soaking During Rainfall

Normal Six-Month Average Expected

The city was "all wet" yesterday as some .77 inches of rain fell here in a good soaking downpour all morning and afternoon.

During the past 48 hours well over an inch and a half of rain has fallen. Instead of being "run-off" downpours, the precipitation has given the ground a thorough soaking.

But area rivers and streams, muddied by the rainfall, have not risen much during the past several days of rain.

Robert R. Golden, official weather observer at Constitution Park, last night said the only noticeable water rise was about one foot at the Wiley Ford Bridge when he checked the Potomac River.

The area is well over the normal amount of rainfall for the month of June in that 5.04 inches of rain has fallen, compared with a 3.88 normal for the month.

The rain which was falling in Cumberland about 8 o'clock last night was expected to help bring up to normal the rainfall for the first six months of the year. At 7:30 p.m. yesterday the total for the first half of 1954 was 17.30 inches.

Total rainfall yesterday up until 7:30 p.m. was .77 inches, Golden pointed out.

A check with officials of the city water system revealed that Lake Koon is half an inch above the spillway and Lake Gordon one foot, four inches below the crest.

During the 24-hour period ending at 7 a.m. yesterday the water in Lake Gordon had risen four inches.

Radio Club To Conduct Field Day

The Mountain Amateur Radio Club will participate in the annual Field Day exercise being held throughout the United States Saturday and Sunday.

Howard M. Burns, president of the local club, said the Field Day here will be staged on Big Savage Mountain just north of Finzel.

The Field Day is sponsored annually by the Amateur Radio Relay League as a test for emergency powered stations. The club will operate six transmitters on emergency power.

Burns extends an invitation to visitors to come to Big Savage Mountain over the weekend to observe the test. It will be conducted from 5 p. m. Saturday until 5 p. m. Sunday.

At least 15 club members will join in the test, conducted annually on the third weekend in June. These tests have been run for about 20 years, except for the war years.

Other officers of the club are R. C. Harper, vice president; William G. Smith, secretary, and Gerald L. Harrison, treasurer.

Town Creek Sportsmen Plan Meet

Tour Of Valley Set By Officials

The Town Creek Valley Farmers Association has received word from Edwin M. Barry, chief of the Inland Fish Management of Maryland, that Tuesday, June 22, is a satisfactory date for him and his staff to visit the Town Creek watershed.

J. Millard Hughes, president of the area group, and his committee, will meet the officials in Flintstone and with the assistance of other local game wardens will visit all the large fishing sections along the creek.

Barry will attend the special meeting that night at Slider's Hall, Pumpkin Center. Camp owners and fishermen have been invited to attend.

A discussion will follow on future improvements for Town Creek. Invitations have been sent to other guests. Entertainment will be provided, movies will be shown and refreshments will be served.

Hughes pointed out that any fishermen interested in seeing the waterway improved for better fishing are welcome to attend.

Man Hit By Car, Child Is Burned In Accidents

Two persons were hospitalized here yesterday afternoon in separate mishaps.

Edison C. Hebb, 58, of 207 Bedford Street, was struck by an auto at the corner of Bedford Street and Henderson Avenue.

Driver of the car was Harold Hipsley, city fireman, who lives at 410 Chestnut Street.

Hebb was admitted to Sacred Heart Hospital for observation. He had a bruise on his forehead and his condition, according to attaches, is "good."

Investigating the accident, which occurred at about noon, was Officer John H. Stitcher. No charges were filed against Hipsley, police said.

In the other mishap, a four-year-old child suffered burns when he pulled a tea kettle over himself from a stove at his home.

Attaches at the same hospital said Ronald Grimes, son of Mrs. Norma Jean Longerbeam, Bowman's Addition, sustained second-degree burns about the chest and abdomen and first-degree burns of his hand and forearm. The accident happened about 1:50 p. m.

Meeting Set Today

A joint meeting of the executive and house committees of Knobley Mountain Post 136, American Legion, will be held at 8 p. m. today in Ridgeley.

Roland G. Showers Sr., commander, urges all members to attend.

Army Engineers Experiment Unit Marks Birthday

Aided In Development Of Local Flood Plan

The Army Corps of Engineers today will celebrate the 25th anniversary of its Waterways Experiment Station which conducted the model study for the Cumberland and Ridgeley, W. Va., flood control project, Senator J. Glenn Beall announced yesterday.

The Engineers, in advising Senator Beall of the celebration, wrote that they were doing so "inasmuch as you were instrumental in securing the necessary authorization for the adoption of the project and have taken such an active part in assuring the necessary funds for continuing the work." The celebration will be held at the Waterways Experiment Station at Vicksburg, Miss.

The scale model used by the Engineers aided materially in designing and planning the flood control project in Cumberland and Ridgeley, where the North Branch of the Potomac River and Wills Creek produced severe flood problems.

Make Model Study

The Army Engineers explained that "in order to study all phases of these problems and to determine the most economical method of providing flood protection to the two cities, a model study of the critical reach of the two streams was made at the Waterways Experiment Station."

Senator Beall said, "Every resident in the Cumberland-Ridgeley area is familiar with the many benefits of the flood control program, and is indebted to the work done by the engineers at the experimental station. That experimental work has not only given us an adequate flood control program, in which I have been proud to have participated, but in addition has saved the American taxpayers more than one hundred million dollars."

Plan Open House

More than 10,000 visitors are expected to visit the unique installation during Open House periods to be held today, tomorrow and Sunday in observance of the silver anniversary.

The experiment station is the principal research and testing facility of the Corps of Engineers in the fields of hydraulics, soils mechanics, and concrete, and is the largest installation of its kind in the world.

Work performed by the experiment station has a significant interest to the residents of Cumberland and Ridgeley. During the past 25 years, three disastrous floods have occurred here, the greatest of which occurred in March 1936.

The flood problem resulted principally from the encroachment of commercial, industrial and residential developments upon the narrow flood plain of Wills Creek and North Branch of the Potomac River. The problem is aggravated by a network of railroads and highways with bridges having restricted openings which have been constructed over both streams within or adjacent to the city limits.

Plan Is Developed

In June 1936, Congress authorized the construction of "levees, retaining walls, movable dam and channel clearings to protect people and property" at Cumberland and Ridgeley. As a result of this authorization, a flood-protection plan was developed by the District Engineer, Washington District, Corps of Engineers, U. S. Army, in accordance with standard design procedures.

In the development of plans there were a number of unknown factors such as the effects of changes in channel alignment and the rearrangement of bridge piers and other existing structures. In order to study all phases of these problems and to determine the most economical method of providing flood protection to the two cities, a model study of critical reaches of the two streams was made at the Waterways Experiment Station.

Make Scale Model

The model used for this investigation reproduced three miles of North Branch of the Potomac River below its confluence with Wills Creek and one mile above, and one and one half mile of Wills

CUMBERLAND, June 17 (AP) — The rugged individualism attributed to hill-dwellers apparently does not extend to Western Marylanders in this primary election campaign.

Their attitude toward the June 28 balloting, at least, seems no different from that found throughout the rest of the state—a lack of concern bordering on absolute apathy.

Only in Allegany, regarded as one of the key counties in the Byrd-Mahoney race for the Democratic nomination for governor, has the electorate shown a flicker of interest.

Elsewhere in the counties which make up the Sixth Congressional District — Garrett, Washington, Frederick and Montgomery—the campaign fires seem to have been banked, waiting for fresh fuel to be tossed on by the candidates in the final flurry before election day.

In practically all the counties George P. Mahoney plays a familiar role, that of a swashbuckling citizen out to wrest control of the party from the well-entrenched organization. It is the same part he played in 1950, when he polled more votes than Gov. William Preston Lane Jr. but lost the nomination, and again in 1952, when he defeated Rep. Lansdale G. Sasscer in the senatorial primary but bowed to Republican J. Glenn Beall in November.

But there's a change in the script this time. Mahoney claims the bulk of organization backing in Garrett, the most remote of all the counties and perhaps the biggest question mark in the district. Split in their allegiance are Joseph Hinebaugh, the Oakland mayor supporting Mahoney, and Bernard Gonder, another party veteran lined up behind Byrd.

Four years ago Lane captured Garrett's four nominating votes by barely outpolling Mahoney, 858-805. Mahoney backers figure they have at least an even chance of reversing the vote this time.

They wax even more optimistic over his prospects in Allegany, whose seven votes in the nominating convention he captured in both previous campaigns.

His adherents, led by weekly publisher Michael F. Prendergast of Frostburg, say they have been joined by more former organization workers than in 1950 or 1952.

While talks with politicians, plain voters and rare neutral observers produce the impression that Byrd faces an uphill fight in Allegany, county leaders backing him stress three points in discussing his outlook:

1. When Mahoney took the county from Lane, the governor's introduction of a retail sales tax had detracted from his popularity and many a voter was itching for a way to show his displeasure with the levy.

2. When Mahoney beat Sasscer, he was a more familiar figure to Allegany County voters than his opponent. Party leaders say Sasscer spent only 12 hours actually campaigning the county after an absence of about 10 years.
